Secretary Weeks At News Conference:

DECRIES 'ATTACK' ON BUSINESS

Talbott Tiffs With Wilson

. . . Controversial Secretary Denies What Reporters Heard

WASHINGTON (AP)—Controversial to the end, Secretary of the Air Force Talbott Thursday accused Secretary of Defense Wilson of failing to do "one thing to defend me."

Newsmen heard the fiery outgoing Air Force chief say this to Wilson, but Talbott later had his aids issue a denial he had criticized or accused Wilson of anything.

Talbott and Wilson were among those at a news conference in Wilson's office where the defense secretary announced the choice of Donald A. Quarles to succeed Talbott as the civilian head of the Air Force.

While photographers were taking pictures of Quarles, Talbott led Wilson to one side of the big office and started talking to him.

As newsmen heard it, Talbott told Wilson: "I don't like what you said at your news conference on Tuesday about being distressed about the whole business of my resignation."

Not One Thing

When Wilson started to reply, Talbott was heard to say: "You haven't done one thing to defend me."

The conversation was broken up at that point when the two were called over to get into a picture with Quarles. At least one reporter, one photographer and two Defense Department civilians had heard what was said.

The denial issued by Air Force aids said Talbott "stated that he had asked Mr. Wilson to step in the corner so that he could congratulate him on his appointment of Don Quarles as Secretary of the Air Force and to tell him how pleased he was personally with the appointment."

"He further stated," the denial continued, "that the idea of his accusing or criticizing Secretary Wilson of anything is incorrect."

On Tuesday, Wilson told his news conference:

"I was very distressed about the whole business," Wilson said. "I didn't like any part of it," speaking of Talbott's business connections.

Later Pleasant

All was pleasant later at farewell ceremonies for Talbott on the Air Force's Bolling Field.

Wilson gave Talbott the Medal of Freedom, a top award for civilians who help the defense effort.

Talbott appeared emotionally moved as some 1,800 airmen lined up across the Bolling Field runway and gave him his final salute as civilian head of the Air Force.

Talbott is to receive the Naval Distinguished Public Service Award Friday.

Businessmen In Politics Defended

From Press Dispatches

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Commerce Weeks said Thursday that "people who don't believe in what this administration believes in" have launched a massive attack on the free enterprise system.

He wouldn't say who these people are, but he specifically defended his Business Advisory Council which has come under attack from Rep. Celler (D-NY), chairman of the House Antomonopoly subcommittee.

Weeks

Weeks said he didn't want to indulge in personalities or politics, when asked to clarify his charge. "If the shoe fits anyone, let him put it on," suggested at a ence.

Celler said earlier Thursday he will subpoena "everybody in sight," ifn ecessary, to penetrate what he called the "aura of secrecy" around the Business Advisory Council. On being told of Weeks' news conference remarks, Celler said the secretary was talking "palpable nonsense."

The Anti-monopoly subcommittee has just recessed until October, its investigation of the government role of WOCs, or businessmen who serve as advisors without compensation, while drawing salaries from private firms.

Credit Warning

Weeks' remarks came at a news conference he had called to report a new record in total American production. At the meeting with newsmen, however, he warned that continued prosperity hinged on sound credit.

Weeks told a news conference that total output in this country climbed to an all-time high of 385 billion dollars last spring.

The secretary said "prosperity is unprecedented." But he said businessmen must gear their operations on a sound basis for "a fast businessmen must gear their opergrowing and prosperous economy" to continue.

Weeks' statement echoed the sentiments of other administration leaders. It came after the government recently took several steps to curb easy credit practices in the housing industry and other fields.

Weeks, in discussing what he called the attack on free enterprise, told his news conference that it surprised him, because it comes at a time of prosperity "when we have a stable dollar for the first time in a generation." He said businessmen in government have done much to keep the economy healthy.

Weeks had refused to let Celler's committee look at the BAC's files. This council, made up of 165 executives from corporations, advises the secretary on national business policy. Financed by contributions from firms, it was established in the 1930's and has continued through Democratic and Republican administrations.

Celler, in calling Weeks' statements nonsense, said the House subcommittee had given the secretary three invitations to testify and "even now Mr. Weeks has not made up his mind whether he will appear or not."

"How long does he want?" Celler's statement added. "What is being covered up? Why is he suppressing the facts?"

Shivers Predicts Rebellion

Other Demos Are Cautious On Adlai Candidacy

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

CHICAGO, (AP) — Democratic governors applauded Thursday — with some crossed fingers—Adlai E. Stevenson's decision to announce his presidential intentions by November.

From Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas, an Eisenhower Democrat in 1952, came a prediction that Stevenson's renomination as the Democratic presidential candidate would stir up another Southern rebellion. In fact, Shivers told reporters:

"I think it's there. I hope it is."

While decrying any third party talk, Shivers said he would back "practically anybody" — Democrat or Republican — who opposes Stevenson.

Urges 'Band Together'

In reaction to Shivers rebellion prophecy, Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia declared:

"I'd like to see all Southern Democrats band together and fight the common fight, as there is no haven of refuge with the Republicans."

Gov. Lawrence Wetherby of Kentucky voiced a similar view.

Stevenson all but tossed his hat into the 1956 political ring at an informal news conference last night. He jumped on the administration's domestic policy, said its foreign policy has improved but could change for the worse in a moment, that Eisenhower isn't invulnerable politically and that he doesn't fear him.

"I will do what is best for my party," Stevenson said, "and not what I think is necessarily best for myself."

Not Agreed

As the 47th annuel Governor's Conference tried for a compromise on a highway program and traded views on mental health problems., several Democrats were unwilling to say at this point that Stevenson would make the party's strongest presidential candidate next year.

But some said it was wise that the former Illinois governor has determined to speak out definitely by the end of November.

Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee combined both views.

"I'm gratified he's set a date," Clement said in an interview. "I think he's wise in doing that. I'm on record as having said at Indianapolis last year that Adlai is the greatest candidate ever to be temporarily denied the presidency of the United States."

As to whether Stevenson would make the strongest party nominee next year, the Tennessee governor remarked that, "I'm not going to go any further until he makes his intensions clear."

'Too Early' Now

Gov. Ernest W. McFarland of Arizona, former Democratic leader of the U.S. Senate, said he considers Stevenson "wise in waiting —he might run himself to death otherwise." But he said it was "too early to say" whether Stevenson would be the strongest man the party could pick.

From the Republican camp, Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California said in a seaparate interview:

"I still think that President Eisenhower would defeat him by a larger margin than he did in 1952."

In spite of his oratorical skill, Knight said, "Stevenson can't overcome next year the handicap of a previous defeat."

Proposed School Levy Questioned By County

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The Lancaster County Board has balked at setting the proposed 38.96 mill levy for the Lincoln School District.

The board put off setting a levy Thursday until the Board of Education presents additional budget "facts"—other than just the amount of money the district "wants" raised by taxation. The request is for approximately $5,559,000.

Commissioner Del Lienemann said the board should have the "whole budget picture" before setting a levy.

The board should examine the district's expected revenue from other sources, its unexpended balance, and the amount requested by taxation in relation to the district's proposed expenditures and reserve carry-over, he explained.

"We're just asking for what we need," David Sell, business manager for the school board, told the commissioners. "This is the same form we have used every year in submitting the request to the board It's never been questioned before."

Answering probing questions as to the district's needs, Sell said the answers should come from the Board of Education.

"It's the first time (our request) has ever been questioned," Sell said. "I think the (school) board should know they are being questioned."

However, Sell said the district had an unexpended balance of $680,000 in the general fund and the amount requested for bond interest was less than paid because money from other investments is used to pay this interest.

Before setting a levy, Board Chairman Russell Brehm said the commissioners wanted to meet with the Board of Education or a representative, Superintendent of Schools Steven N. Watkins and Sell concerning the school budget requirements.

Meanwhile, the county board has taken under consideration a communication from a taxation representative of the Rock Island Railroad concerning the proposed tax requirements for three rural school districts in the county.

In line with Supreme Court decisions and an attorney general's opinion, the railroad tax expert said, the county board should examine the amounts proposed by the districts to be raised by taxation.

The expert claimed the districts are asking for more tax money than actually needed to meet budget requirements. Cited are Districts 43, 42 and 76.

'Claims Excessive'

Taking proposed expenditures and a 50 per cent reserve allowance, less the cash balance, the districts requests for tax money are excessive to their "needs," the railroad claims in presenting budget figures for each district.

District 42 has asked for $6,000, while its tax need is only $4,859, he states. District 43 has proposed $2,500 while its actual tax "need" is $1,994, he said, and District 76 has proposed $1,800 as against a need of $552.

While the school board is the best judge of the district's needs, the letter cites an attorney general's opinion stating that the county board is required to fix a levy raising only the amount of the district's actual needs.

CumingCounty Records First Auto Fatality

Lincoln Star Special

WEST POINT, Neb. — Cuming County chalked up its first traffic fatality of the year Thursday afternoon when a 25-year-old West Point farmer was killed in a one car accident.

The fatality brought the state highway toll up to 173 dead compared to 184 at the same time last year.

Killed instantly when his car apparently went out of control after hitting loose gravel was Harvey Reeson. The accident happened three miles west and two and a half miles south of here on a county road.

Safety Patrolman Willis Green of West Point said Reeson was going north on the county road when his car hit loose gravel and entered the right ditch. The car was demolished.

Life Short For Young Zoo Visitor

Life was short in Lincoln for one little fellow.

No sooner had the news been released that he was here than the new Marmoset monkey at the Antelope Park zoo was dead. The little monkey, a young animal but still full grown at only five inches, fell from a perch inside his cage and struck the concrete floor with his head.

He died shortly after the fall. Death for him, however, means a degree of immortality as the monkey has been transferred to the University of Nebraska Morrill Hall museum where he will be placed on display.

Three more Marmosets are expected to arrive at the zoo shortly. The monkeys represent only a small investment of about $25.

Boy Drowns At Wymore

Lincoln Star Special

WYMORE, Neb. — Eleven-year-old Junior Bailey drowned late Thursday afternoon in the Wymore Municipal Swimming Pool at Arbor State Park.

It was his first trip to the pool this year, and it was reported he was unable to swim.

The Bailey boy, who makes his home with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Odgen of Wymore, had gone swimming with a companion, Billie Wingnall, 11.

Billie told authorities he left his companion at the shallow end of the pool while he went to the diving board. Billie said when he returned a few minutes later the Bailey boy was lying at the bottom of the pool in five feet of water.

It was the first accident at the pool since it opened four years ago.

Two-Car Crash Hurts One Driver

Lowell Bridger, 30, of 921 Manatt, suffered undetermined head injuries in a two-car collision between 39th and 40th on O Thursday night.

Bridger was reported in good condition at St. Elizabeth's Hospital early Friday morning.

He was driving east on O when his car collided with one driven by Robert Mulder, 22, of 4200 O. Mulder also was driving east on O.

Bridger said he did not see the vehicle ahead of him until Mulder's car had stopped. He said he swerved to the right and applied the brakes.

Mulder was forced to stop because of the traffic ahead of him.

Nebraskan Is Killed In Air Crash

Col. Frank Little Of Central City Victim

CENTRAL CITY, Neb. — Lt. Col. Frank Roy Little, 39, commanding officer of the 499th engineering battalion stationed at Karlsruhe, Germany, was one of the occupants killed in the crash of two Army planes Thursday afternoon, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Little were notified by the Army.

He was the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Donovan of 4042 Washington, Lincoln.

Col. Little was born in Aurora and moved with his parents to Central City where he was graduated from high school. He was called into active service in July, 1941, after completing R.O.T.C. training at the University of Nebraska. During World War II he was stationed at Ft. Belvoir, Va., the engineers training school. At the end of the war, he returned to the University of Nebraska and completed work on his degree in engineering in February, 1948.

He returned to active service in the regular Army and served a year in Korea before being transferred to the Far East Army headquarters in Tokyo, Japan. In 1950 he returned to this country and was graduated from the Advanced Engineers School at Ft. Belvoir in 1952.

He was then assigned to the headquarters of the Seventh Corps of the Seventh Army and stationed at Stuttgart, Germany in 1953. Recently he was transferred to command the 499th engineers battalion at Karlsruhe.

Col. Little was married at Ft. Belvoir, May 3, 1942 to Miss Kay Donovan. They had met while both were attending the university. She has been with him on his overseas tour of duty.

Besides his parents and widow, Col. Little is survived by a brother and two sisters.

ATLANTIC BEACH, N.C. (INS) — As hurricane Connie moved in, 100 residents of Atlantic Beach refused to leave.

Mayor Alfred Cooper ordered them to sign next-of-kin cards.

They evacuated the town Thursday.

U.S. TROOPS REPORTEDLY KILL KOREAN

SEOUL (Friday) (AP) — South Korean police said U.S. troops guarding Red truce inspectors near Inchon shot and killed a Korean and seriously wounded two others early Friday. There was no immediate confirmation from the U.S. Army officials.

It was the first report of death or serious injury since South Koreans started mob demonstrations and riots Saturday against pro-Communist Czech and Polish truce inspectors.

A national police spokesman identified the dead Korean as a 33-year-old fisherman.

The Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission has defied South Korea's order to get out by Saturday midnight.

A U.S. spokesman warned the situation could deteriorate rapidly despite South Korean government statements against violence. The spokesman said:

"If the Koreans really try to get in the truce compounds it's going to be bad."

Reports from the southeast port of Pusan said American soldiers were ringing the truce compound with 50-calibre machine guns.

Crowds of Koreans milled around outside. Some Koreans carried clubs and gas masks.

Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, U.S. Far East commander who flew from Tokyo, met with President Syngman Rhee Thursday. Rhea says the Red Czech and Polish truce inspectors are spies and told them to leave.

CONNIE LASHES COAST

Fourth Storm, Diane, Forming In Atlantic

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP) — Hurricane Connie smashed at the Carolina coast Thursday night with 100-mile winds and towering waves.

Fishing piers and other shore installations were pounded to pieces, houses were destroyed, roads and bridges washed out, power and communication lines torn down, and major highways blocked.

No one could estimate the extent of the damage to deserted beach communities and isolated towns where Connie stacked up fresh debris along side many remnants of Hazel, which blasted the same area last year. No casualties were reported as coastal residents, who had kept a wary eye on Connie for days, generally evacuated danger areas for temporary shelters in places of safety.

Thousands of persons huddled in refuge shelters from Morehead City, N. C., to Charleston, S. C.

In Danger

North Carolina and Virginia coasts and the northern beaches of South Carolina were in the greatest danger.

The last Weather Bureau advisory placed the eye of the hurricane 60 miles southeast of Wilmington.

It said the center probably would reach the coast before noon Friday at a point between Wilmington and Cape Hatteras on North Carolina's bleak Outer Banks.

The storm was moving northward at six to seven miles an hour. Highest winds continue to be about 100 miles an hour.

Tides are expected to be eight feet above normal along the North Carolina coast north and northeast of the center.

North Carolina's Gov. Luther H. Hodges was at Wilmington in personal command of a team of state officials setting up rescue operations. He toured the beaches late in the day. He left the National Governor's Conference in Chicago and flew home to take charge.

Plans were made to move national guardsmen quickly into damaged areas when the storm subsided to prevent the looting that followed Hazel's onslaught.

Diane Coming

Meanwhile, the fourth tropical storm of the year—Diane—boiled up in the Atlantic 470 miles northnortheast of Puerto Rico and was expected to develop hurricane force overnight.

Diane was located by a hurricane hunter plane near latitude 24.6 north, longitude 63.1 west.

The Miami storm warning center reported it moving toward the west-northwest about 14 miles an hour with winds of 50 to 60 miles an hour near the center. Gales extended out 200 miles to the north and east and 100 miles to the southwest.

Diane formed about 300 miles north and considerably to the east of the spot where Connie, her predecessor, was spawned.

Forecasters said Diane was "expected to slowly intensify and grow in size and probably reach full hurricane force during the next 12 to 24 hours."

Its position was a little more than 1,000 miles southeast of Miami. It was too early to predict whether it might reach the coastline.

Taxes Jump 45.18 Mills In 30 Years

Lincoln taxpayers, in the past 30 years have experienced a tax increase from all governmental sources of $45.18 per $1000 of assessed valuation.

In 1925, the total levy for the state, county, school district, sanitary district and city combined was 26.43 mills. For the 1955-56 fiscal year, this levy has more than doubled as it reaches 71.615 mills. (One mill per dollar equals one dollar per $1,000.)

The levy table since 1925, with only the 1955-56 school levy still uncertain, is as follows:

Quarles Replaces Talbott

WILSON CHOICE IS NAMED ... As Air Secretary

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Donald A. Quarles, the country's head man in the search for weapons of the future, Thursday was named secretary of the Air Force.

Quarles

The Arkansas-born, Yale-educated Quarles, who once was mayor of his hometown Englewood, N. J succeeds Harold E. Talbott.

President Eisenhower picked Quarles on the recommendation of Secretary of Defense Wilson. He has been serving as assistant secretary of defense for research and development, and one of his projects has been the development of the proposed earth satellite.

Wilson described Quarles as a man he found he could count on at all times, "dedicated to the nation's interest."

Confirmation Needed

The appointment will be subject to Senate confirmation when Congress comes back in January.

Talbott is leaving Saturday, having resigned in the aftermath of a Senate investigation which raised a question of ethics about his outside business activities.

Quarles told reporters "I will divest myself of any holdings in my modest list of securities that might conceivably involve any conflict of interest."

He is a former vice president of the Bell Telephone laboratories, a former vice president of the Western Electric Co., and a former president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

No Active Connection

Quarles said that although he had severed all active connections with Western Electric, he was still a "pensioner of the company on an irrevocable basis which carries with it no conditions."

He did not say how much his pension was. His salary as secretary will be $18,000 a year.

Quarles, 61, is six years younger than Talbott. While Talbott's industrial background included connections with aviation, Quarles said he had never had any direct connection with that field.

Both are Republicans, Quarles was a councilman for Englewood for six years and was the town's mayor in 1946-47.

Exact Opposites

Temperamentally, the two men are vastly different. Talbott is an executive of almost explosive vigor, who has been known to shove around important people in his impatience to get a job done.

Quarles is one of the quietest men in Washington. Slight of build, he has crisp, graying black hair and heavy black eyebrows. Besides his 1916 B.A. degree from Yale, Quarles has honorary degrees as doctor of engineering from the University of Arkansas and New York University. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Japan's Commie Leader Gives Up

TOKYO (Friday) (AP) — The aging leader of Japan's Communists and two other party officials popped out of the underground yesterday and surrendered to police.

Sanzo Nozaka, 64, the No. 1 Communist, and Shigeo Shida and Yojiro Konno had hid out since Gen. Douglas MacArthur ordered all Communists to report for questioning early in the Korean War.

Before surrendering, they made a surprise appearance at a leftist youth rally in the suburbs. They got a thunderous reception from a crowd of 3,000.

Mother Slashes Kids, Kills Self

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A 23-year-old housewife was found dead Thursday next to the bodies of her two children. Sheriff's officers said she apparently killed herself after cutting the children's throats.

Roy Zunstein, an unemployed truck driver, found the bodies of his wife and children in their home in nearby Sunnyslope after a short trip to the store.

His wife, Shirley, Roy Jr., 6, and Dennis, 4, were lying in pools of blood. A knife was found beside the bodies. There was no note.

Actor Victor Moore Suffers An Attack

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) —Veteran actor Victor Moore, 79, was hospitalized Thursday after an attack of what his physician called diabetes and a "vascular disorder.'

He was taken to St. John's Hospital here after becoming ill at his Beverly Hills home. His wife, Shirley, was with him when he was stricken.

Godfrey Has Trouble Again, And At Same Jersey Airport

Pilot Godfrey

An airport spokesman said Godfrey was taxing his DC3 on the runway, preparing to take off for his Virginia home, when the right wing banged into one of the runway lights.

No one was hurt and the wing suffered only minor damage. It was repaired in the hangar and Godfrey made plans to take off again later in the day.

Godfrey's pilot license was suspended for six months in March, 1954, by the Civil Aeronautics Board after examiners found that he was flying "recklessly" when he flew over the control tower the previous Jan. 7.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration complained the red-haired TV-radio star, angered because the control tower refused him permission to take off on a runway of his choice, flew the twin-engine plane dangerously close to the tower and narrowly missed three airplanes waiting to take off.

A CAA representative at the airport Thursday said the lights are about 9 to 10 feet high. There was just a slight breeze at the time of the mishap, he added.

Godfrey started flying again Sept. 17, 1954, when his license revocation expired.

He'd Rather Be Wright Than A Legionaire

SPRING GREEN, Wis. (AP) — World-famed architect Frank Lloyd Wright assailed the American Legion Thursday for what he said was its opposition to him as the architect for the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Wright

Wright's statement was prompted by a news story in the August issue of Architectural Forum that stated the Legion had prepared a public blast at Wright in 1954 in the event he was selected by the Air Force as academy architect.

Wright said:

"I do not know why the American Legion puts me on its blackened page unless because I hate war and openly oppose it.

"I equally hate American Legion opposition to the exercise by others of the same rights it takes to itself. I do not want to see our 'sovereignty of the individuals' sacrificed to fear, even fear of communism — see ourselves reduced by the professional warrior to communism's level."

Wright, now 86, withdrew abruptly from competition to design buildings for the academy in July 1954. His withdrawal was based on the Legion attitude, Architectural Forum stated.

Soldier Admits Attack On Girl

CHICAGO (AP) — An 18-year-old soldier related Thursday, police said, that he beat, choked and raped a 17-year-old girl after she left a dance party Saturday night.

The body of the victim, Joanne Pushis, was found Wednesday in some bushes in Calumet Park on the far South Side. She had been missing since attending a dance party in the mess hall of A battery, 734th Antiaircraft Artillery Battalion nearby. The dark-eyed brunette was fully clothed when found, but her clothing was disarranged.

Detectives said Pvt. Henry Matthews, Detroit, related during a third lie test, that he had attacked the girl.

Shoe Shop Fire Doused Quickly

Fire broke out in the basement of Gus's Shoe Shop at 130 So. 13th adjacent to the Federal Securities Building shortly before midnight Thursday but was quickly doused by firemen.

Willie Washington, 48, told firemen he was listening to the radio when a pot of stew on a burner burst into flames and got out of control.

The fire sent billows of smoke up a trash chute and the stairs, but damage was confined to a broken basement window and blackened brick walls.

Washington went next door and called the fire department himself.

Polio Foundation Needs Local Funds

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis asked its 3,100 local chapters Thursday to turn in surplus funds so the nation's polio program may "survive."

Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation, said $52,511,185 was contributed to the March of Dimes campaign last January, but this fell $12 million short of needs.

The foundation president said the chapters were being asked to turn over 50 per cent of their surpluses now and the rest later should circumstances warrant it.

Oil Field Worker Dies Of Injuries

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—Joe Langley, 29, Brush, Colo., died Thursday in County Hospital from injuries received in an oil rig accident Wednesday afternoon.

An employe of the Baldersen-Denver Drilling Co., Langley was struck on the head while a rig 12 miles southwest of Potter in Kimball County was being dismantled.

Company officials sad Langley apparently slipped and fell underneath a descending A-frame. He suffered a skull fracture and never regained consciousness.

He is the fourth man killed in a Panhandle oil accident within the last month.

11 Freed Airmen Home To States

HONOLULU (AP) — Eleven U. S. airmen left for home Thursday on what an Air Force spokesman says will be "their last, long mission together."

The fliers, shot down in the Korean War and prisoners of Red China for 32 months, were due at Travis Air Force Base, Calif. Friday morning.

At Travis, the 11 will be split up and flown to reunions with their families across the country.

The airmen spent Thursday sightseeing, shopping for gifts and swimming at Waikiki Beach after a big night.

They polished off steak dinners at a swank restaurant Wednesday night, then went to a night club.

Guard Readies For Training Period Finale

CAMP RIPLEY, Minn. (AP) — The strenuous field training of the Iowa-Nebraska National Guard infantry division ground to a halt late Thursday night as the troops marched or rolled back to the camp to spend the night cleaning equipment.

Friday morning in the grand finale of the two weeks training the division's 10 thousand men will march in the annual governor's day review. The spot light will be on Iowa Governor Leo Heogh, a colonel in the guard. Governor Victor Anderson of Nebraska will not be present. Governor Heogh said his colleague is a member of the resolutions committee at the Chicago Governor's Conference and was unable to leave.

Nebraska Secretary of State Frank Marsh will take the honor salute of the Nebraska troops.

A special honor will go to four Iowa and two Nebraska guardsmen, selected as the outstanding soldiers in their state. They will be guests of Governors Heogh and Anderson at Chicago for dinner and the All-Star football game.

Five more Nebraskans were presented expert infantry badges Thursday night by Maj. Gen. Warren C. Wood, Gering, division commander at a retreat parade.

They were Cpl. Ronald Most, Ogallala; M-Sgt. Jerome Jochum, Norfolk; 2nd Lt. Franklyn Wintergren, Hastings, and 1st Lts. Frank Bizal and Richad Thaden of Omaha.

Refinery Workers Back On Jobs By Next Wednesday

OMAHA (AP) — All union members of the American Smelting and Refining Co. plant here will be back on the job by next Wednesday, Herschel Howard, president of Local 461, International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter workers said Thursday.

Some 270 union members have been involved in a nationwide strike against the firm since July 21.

Howard said Local 461 workers unanimously ratified an agreement reached in bargaining sessions in San Francisco.

The terms include wage increases averaging 13½ cents an hour. A paid holiday for each worker on his birthday; payment to workers for time off on jury duty; company health and welfare contributions for the strike period: Holiday pay for July 4 which fell during the strike.

The union originally asked a 20 cent an hour wage hike. Ray C. Skow, Omaha plant manager, said the union turned down an offer of 13½ cents July 21.

Vic, 4 Others, 'Play Hookey'

CHICAGO (AP) — Five Republican governors were 'caught' Thursday playing hookey from the 47th annual Governor's Conference.

The quintet, spotted in the gallery of some 10,000 watching the opening round of the world championship golf at the Tam O'Shanter course, were: Victor E. Anderson, Nebraska; Joseph B. Johnson, Vermont; Joe J. Foss, South Dakota; J. Caleb Boggs, Delaware; and Ford Q. Elvidge, Guam.

69 SAN MARINO CITIZENS FLY FROM U.S. TO VOTE ... Try To Beat Reds By Ballots

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Sixty-nine citizens of the world's tiniest republic arrived from the United States Thursday in a thumbnail crusade intended to liberate their native San Marino from Communist control through the ballot box.

A chartered Pan American plane brought them from New York.

Residents now of Detroit, New York and Sandusky, Ohio—but not yet U. S. citizens—they are going to vote in the San Marino elections Sunday, hoping their ballots will be sufficient to throw out the Communist-controlled coalition administering the country.

Anti-Communists have prepared a gala reception in San Marino in the mountains 180 miles away, for their allies from the United States.

The Communists won control of the 60-man Governing Council by a scant 200 votes of 4,200 cast in the 1951 elections.

Matches Tactics

Bringing voters from the United States sort of matches the Red political machine maneuvers of the past in the 25-square-mile country of 14,000 persons which is entirely surrounded by Italian territory.

Red voters have been brought in from other European countries by the left-wingers with free bus or train tickets at election time. The system paid off because the leftists have won every election since 1945. They now have a 31-29 margin on the Governing Council.

Barring a red tape snafu, those who arrived said, a second plane carring 48 more voters will leave New York in a sprint to get here before the voting.

Miss Miriam Michelotti, leader of a fight to give women the vote in San Marino, went to the United States and organized "Operation Voters" in 20 days when the leftists moved up the voting date in an effort to throw their Christian Democratic and other foes off balance.

Judge Orders State Return Gothe's Money

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—District Judge E. G. Kroger Thursday ordered the return of money which had been impounded in a gambling raid here last fall.

The state had refused to return the money to Homer Gothe, Omaha, under a state statute which provides for confiscation and destruction of gambling devices and instrumentalities of gambling.

Gothe was arrested in a raid Nov. 23 at which time $1,445 was confiscated.

He was charged with gambling, found guilty and fined $100 and costs.

Afterwards Gothe filed a petition seeking return of the money.

Ordering its return, Judge Kroger held Thursday that the Legislature could not have intended money as a gambling device to be destroyed, since federal law makes it a crime to destroy money. The judge added that money might be seized for prosecution, however.

'Miss Show Business' Merman In Hospital

DENVER (INS) — Ethel Merman, renowned musical comedy star, entered St. Luke's Hospital in Denver Thursday for a "minor operation."

Hospital attendants said the "Miss Show Business" of Hollywood and Broadway will undergo surgery Friday. They said she will return home "in a few days."

Hereford Drive Today

Lt. Gov. Charles Warner will hold a Hereford Drive at his farm east of Lincoln Friday. The Agricultural committee of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce along with cattle breeders from all over the state have been invited. A noon luncheon will be served.

$303,969 In Gas Taxes Owed Lancaster

Audit Shows 23 Counties Were Underpaid In 1950-54

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Gas tax funds totaling $303,969.08 are due Lancaster County.

This is shown in an audit, computed in accordance with a Lancaster District Court ruling on the proper allocation of funds involved in Nebraska's gas tax controversy. The audit also shows 23 counties were paid too little in gas tax funds in 1950-54.

The audit was presented Thursday to Lancaster District Judge Harry Spencer at a hearing in the suit brought by former State Treasurer Frank B. Heintze against the 93 counties for a court interpretation of the gas tax law in effect for the years 1950 through 1954.

At an earlier hearing, Judge Spencer ruled that Heintze had used outdated census and motor vehicle registration figures in distributing the gas tax funds.

The audit, made in accordance with the distribution formula set down by the court, showed that 23 of the 93 counties were paid less than their proper share of the gas tax funds distributed by Heintze for 1950 through September, 1954.

Undistributed Funds

Lancaster County was "shorted" $112,601.28 in gas funds distributed by Heintze. The balance of the $303,969 due the county is the county's share of the nearly $3 million which was not distributed to the counties in October, November, and December, 1954, but was deposited by Heintze with the court after the controversy arose.

Other counties underpaid and the amount of underpayment are:

Adams, $15,278	Kimball, $3,634
Banner, $1,482	Lincoln, $18,926
Box Butte, $3,262	Madison, $11,792
Cheyenne, $50,826	Merrick, $1,778
Colfax, $564	Phelps, $5,549
Cuming, $1,815	Platte, $6,404
Dakota, $6,691	Sarpy, $83,214
Dawson, $3,538	Scotts Bluff, $9,868
Dodge, $20,027	Stanton, $1,023
Douglas, $289,834	Washington, $3,645
Hall, $35,313	Wayne, $2,400

All 93 counties have money due them from the amount deposited in court from the undistributed gas tax funds for October, November, and December, 1954.

Offset Ruling Waited

Amounts of overpayment to 70 counties range from $36,463.23 to Custer County to $501.99 to Cass County.

Judge Spencer has yet to rule on the question of "offset" — whether the underpaid counties can be paid from the funds deposited with the court by subtracting the amounts overpaid to the other counties from the funds undistributed for the last three months in 1954.

While the question of "offset" has not been finally determined, Judge Spencer indicated his present position is that offset would be allowed. The plaintiff has argued that such was allowed in similar cases in Michigan and Tennessee.

Atty. John J. Wilson, attorney for Heintze, said he believed sufficient funds were on deposit if offset is used in final distribution.

Two other questions to be argued at the final gas tax hearing set for Sept. 6 are whether Heintze can be held personally liable for mistakes in the amounts paid and whether estoppel — a legal bar which would keep Heintze from reclaiming any excess funds paid—can be invoked.

Judge Spencer indicated there would be no estoppel.

Guard Welder At Work

Pfc. Robert Heinke of 345 B uses an acetylene and oxygen torch to weld a tire carrier on the back of a jeep. A member of Company B, 734th Ordnance Battalion, he is among the members of the 34th Infantry Division of the Iowa-Nebraska National Guard training at Camp Ripley, Minn. Commanding officer of the unit is 1st Lt. Everett R. Smith of 3244 So. 40th.

State Agencies Show Saving From Budgets

State agencies during the 1953-55 binennium made considerable savings from the amount appropriated by the Legislature. Gov. Robert Crosby shortly after the appropriations were made urged all department heads to practice restraint and try and keep expenditures well below the amount appropriated.

The Board of Control headed the list in dollar savings with $4,320,693 or about 15 per cent of the $28,048,000 appropriated.

The Building Commission reported that 59 per cent of its $25,678 budget was saved, leaving a balance of $15,193. L. N. Ress, state engineer, explained that this was largely due to highway department engineers doing the engineering on terrace repairs which it had been expected would cost the commission $10,000.

The insurance department made a 14 per cent saving to allow a carry-over of $29,000 from its $205,000 appropriation. Department of Agriculture and Inspection saved a like percentage with a carryover of $104,000 from its $718,000 appropriation.

Other departments report that their carryover does not represent a true picture of their finances. Director James Ramsey of the Department of Aeronautics says the 33 per cent that department saved is committed for airport projects.

The Murals Commission has $12,436 unexpended out of the $40,000 appropriated but this money is committed for murals now being painted for the rotunda.

The custodian's office with savings of $150,840 form its $701,968 budget accounts for $60,000 of it by reason of not yet having spent it for a new northeast elevator.

Roads Department Not Party To Gas Tax Controversy

The State Department of Roads and Irrigation, which received $288,121.05 in gas tax funds which should have gone to the counties, will not be made a party to Nebraska's gas tax controversy.

Former State Treasurer Frank Heintze, plaintiff in the case, had attempted to bring the department into the action as a defendant with the 93 counties.

In sustaining a demurrer of the highway department, which blocks Heintze's attempt to bring the department into the suit, Judge Spencer noted he had earlier sustained a similar objection for Heintze.

In other arguments, Heintze's attorneys contended the former treasurer could not be held personally liable for "executive mistakes without malice" as to the $288,121.05.

Heintze was required to use his judgment in distributing the funds as required by law and the counties cannot now claim liability after acquiescing to the executive's judgment, his attorney said.

Judge Spencer said the mistakes made, not only by Heintze but also by treasurers who preceded him, came "pretty close to willful disregard of the law."

A breakdown of the diesel fuel equalization fees paid to the state and due each county will be submitted to the court at final hearing Sept. 6.

All evidence has been submitted and the record closed except for the diesel fuel breakdown and final acceptance of the gas tax audit by the defendants.

The auditor for the defendant counties is to check the state's figures. The defense said its auditor found the 1952 gas tax figures submitted by the state to be correct.

Briefs leading to final oral argument on Sept. 6 will be submitted by Aug. 29.

Marine Reservists Split For Training

Members of Lincoln's Marine Air Reserve Fighter Squadron 113 will be divided for their annual two weeks training period.

Pilots of the squadron, which is led by Maj. Morgan O. Webb III of Lincoln, will train at the Naval Air Station at Lincoln Air Force Base from Aug. 13 to 27.

The remainder of the squadron, composed of officers and men from the Lincoln area, will participate in full scale maneuvers at the Marine Corps Air Station in El Toro, Calif.

The "Week-end Warrior" squadron is still in the process of converting to new jet aircraft.

Quarles Replaces Talbott

WILSON CHOICE IS NAMED

...As Air Secretary

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Donald A. Quarles, the country's head man in the search for weapons of the future, Thursday was named secretary of the Air Force.

Quarles

The Arkansas-born, Yale-educated Quarles, who once was mayor of his hometown Englewood, N. J succeeds Harold E. Talbott.

President Eisenhower picked Quarles on the recommendation of Secretary of Defense Wilson. He has been serving as assistant secretary of defense for research and development, and one of his projects has been the development of the proposed earth satellite.

Wilson described Quarles as a man he found he could count on at all times, "dedicated to the nation's interest."

Confirmation Needed

The appointment will be subject to Senate confirmation when Congress comes back in January.

Talbott is leaving Saturday, having resigned in the aftermath of a Senate investigation which raised a question of ethics about his outside business activities.

Quarles told reporters "I will divest myself of any holdings in my modest list of securities that might conceivably involve any conflict of interest."

He is a former vice president of the Bell Telephone laboratories, a former vice president of the Western Electric Co., and a former president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

No Active Connection

Quarles said that although he had severed all active connections with Western Electric, he was still a "pensioner of the company on an irrevocable basis which carries with it no conditions."

He did not say how much his pension was. His salary as secretary will be $18,000 a year.

Quarles, 61, is six years younger than Talbott. While Talbott's industrial background included connections with aviation, Quarles said he had never had any direct connection with that field.

Both are Republicans. Quarles was a councilman for Englewood for six years and was the town's mayor in 1946-47.

Exact Opposites

Temperamentally, the two men are vastly different. Talbott is an executive of almost explosive vigor, who has been known to shove around important people in his impatience to get a job done.

Quarles is one of the quietest men in Washington. Slight of build, he has crisp, graying black hair and heavy black eyebrows. Besides his 1916 B.A. degree from Yale, Quarles has honorary degrees as doctor of engineering from the University of Arkansas and New York University. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Japan's Commie Leader Gives Up

TOKYO (Friday) (AP) — The aging leader of Japan's Communists and two other party officials popped out of the underground yesterday and surrendered to police.

Sanzo Nozaka, 64, the No. 1 Communist, and Shigeo Shida and Yojiro Konno had hid out since Gen. Douglas MacArthur ordered all Communists to report for questioning early in the Korean War.

Before surrendering, they made a surprise appearance at a leftist youth rally in the suburbs. They got a thunderous reception from a crowd of 3,000.

Mother Slashes Kids, Kills Self

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A 23-year-old housewife was found dead Thursday next to the bodies of her two children. Sheriff's officers said she apparently killed herself after cutting the children's throats.

Roy Zunstein, an unemployed truck driver, found the bodies of his wife and children in their home in nearby Sunnyslope after a short trip to the store.

His wife, Shirley, Roy Jr., 6, and Dennis, 4, were lying in pools of blood. A knife was found beside the bodies. There was no note.

Actor Victor Moore Suffers An Attack

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) —Veteran actor Victor Moore, 79, was hospitalized Thursday after an attack of what his physician called diabetes and a "vascular disorder.'

He was taken to St. John's Hospital here after becoming ill at his Beverly Hills home. His wife, Shirley, was with him when he was stricken.

Godfrey Has Trouble Again, And At Same Jersey Airport

TETERBORO, N.J. (AP) — Entertainer Arthur Godfrey had trouble again Thursday at Teterboro Airport, scene of the famed "buzzing" incident of last year. His plane's right wing hit a ground light.

Pilot Godfrey

An airport spokesman said Godfrey was taxing his DC3 on the runway, preparing to take off for his Virginia home, when the right wing banged into one of the runway lights.

No one was hurt and the wing suffered only minor damage. It was repaired in the hangar and Godfrey made plans to take off again later in the day.

Godfrey's pilot license was suspended for six months in March, 1954, by the Civil Aeronautics Board after examiners found that he was flying "recklessly" when he flew over the control tower the previous Jan. 7.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration complained the red-haired TV-radio star, angered because the control tower refused him permission to take off on a runway of his choice, flew the twin-engine plane dangerously close to the tower and narrowly missed three airplanes waiting to take off.

A CAA representative at the airport Thursday said the lights are about 9 to 10 feet high. There was just a slight breeze at the time of the mishap, he added.

Godfrey started flying again Sept. 17, 1954, when his license revocation expired.

He'd Rather Be Wright Than A Legionaire

SPRING GREEN, Wis. (AP) — World-famed architect Frank Lloyd Wright assailed the American Legion Thursday for what he said was its opposition to him as the architect for the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Wright's statement was prompted by a news story in the August issue of Architectural Forum that stated the Legion had prepared a public blast at Wright in 1954 in the event he was selected by the Air Force as academy architect.

Wright said:

"I do not know why the American Legion puts me on its blackened page unless because I hate war and openly oppose it.

"I equally hate American Legion opposition to the exercise by others of the same rights it takes to itself. I do not want to see our 'sovereignty of the individuals' sacrificed to fear, even fear of communism — see ourselves reduced by the professional warrior to communism's level."

Wright, now 86, withdrew abruptly from competition to design buildings for the academy in July 1954. His withdrawal was based on the Legion attitude, Architectural Forum stated.

Soldier Admits Attack On Girl

CHICAGO (AP) — An 18-year-old soldier related Thursday, police said, that he beat, choked and raped a 17-year-old girl after she left a dance party Saturday night.

The body of the victim, Joanne Pushis, was found Wednesday in some bushes in Calumet Park on the far South Side. She had been missing since attending a dance party in the mess hall of A battery, 734th Antiaircraft Artillery Battalion nearby. The dark-eyed brunette was fully clothed when found, but her clothing was disarranged.

Detectives said Pvt. Henry Matthews, Detroit, related during a third lie test, that he had attacked the girl.

Shoe Shop Fire Doused Quickly

Fire broke out in the basement of Gus's Shoe Shop at 130 So. 13th adjacent to the Federal Securities Building shortly before midnight Thursday but was quickly doused by firemen.

Willie Washington, 48, told firemen he was listening to the radio when a pot of stew on a burner burst into flames and got out of control.

The fire sent billows of smoke up a trash chute and the stairs, but damage was confined to a broken basement window and blackened brick walls.

Washington went next door and called the fire department himself.

Polio Foundation Needs Local Funds

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis asked its 3,100 local chapters Thursday to turn in surplus funds so the nation's polio program may "survive."

Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation, said $52,511,185 was contributed to the March of Dimes campaign last January, but this fell $12 million short of needs.

The foundation president said the chapters were being asked to turn over 50 per cent of their surpluses now and the rest later should circumstances warrant it.

Oil Field Worker Dies Of Injuries

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—Joe Langley, 29, Brush, Colo., died Thursday in County Hospital from injuries received in an oil rig accident Wednesday afternoon.

An employe of the Baldersen-Denver Drilling Co., Langley was struck on the head while a rig 12 miles southwest of Potter in Kimball County was being dismantled.

Company officials said Langley apparently slipped and fell underneath a descending A-frame. He suffered a skull fracture and never regained consciousness.

He is the fourth man killed in a Panhandle oil accident within the last month.

11 Freed Airmen Home To States

HONOLULU (AP) — Eleven U. S. airmen left for home Thursday on what an Air Force spokesman says will be "their last, long mission together."

The fliers, shot down in the Korean War and prisoners of Red China for 32 months, were due at Travis Air Force Base, Calif. Friday morning.

At Travis, the 11 will be split up and flown to reunions with their families across the country.

The airmen spent Thursday sightseeing, shopping for gifts and swimming at Waikiki Beach after a big night.

They polished off steak dinners at a swank restaurant Wednesday night, then went to a night club.

Guard Readies For Training Period Finale

CAMP RIPLEY, Minn. (AP) — The strenuous field training of the Iowa-Nebraska National Guard infantry division ground to a halt late Thursday night as the troops marched or rolled back to the camp to spend the night cleaning equipment.

Friday morning in the grand finale of the two weeks training the division's 10 thousand men will march in the annual governor's day review. The spot light will be on Iowa Governor Leo Heogh, a colonel in the guard. Governor Victor Anderson of Nebraska will not be present. Governor Heogh said his colleague is a member of the resolutions committee at the Chicago Governor's Conference and was unable to leave.

Nebraska Secretary of State Frank Marsh will take the honor salute of the Nebraska troops.

A special honor will go to four Iowa and two Nebraska guardsmen, selected as the outstanding soldiers in their state. They will be guests of Governors Heogh and Anderson at Chicago for dinner and the All-Star football game.

Five more Nebraskans were presented expert infantry badges Thursday night by Maj. Gen. Warren C. Wood, Gering, division commander at a retreat parade.

They were Cpl. Ronald Most, Ogallala; M-Sgt. Jerome Jochum, Norfolk; 2nd Lt. Franklyn Wintergren, Hastings, and 1st Lts. Frank Bizal and Richad Thaden of Omaha.

Refinery Workers Back On Jobs By Next Wednesday

OMAHA (AP) — All union members of the American Smelting and Refining Co. plant here will be back on the job by next Wednesday, Herschel Howard, president of Local 461, International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter workers said Thursday.

Some 270 union members have been involved in a nationwide strike against the firm since July 21.

Howard said Local 461 workers unanimously ratified an agreement reached in bargaining sessions in San Francisco.

The terms include wage increases averaging 13½ cents an hour. A paid holiday for each worker on his birthday; payment to workers for time off on jury duty; company health and welfare contributions for the strike period: Holiday pay for July 4 which fell during the strike.

The union originally asked a 20 cent an hour wage hike. Ray C. Skow, Omaha plant manager, said the union turned down an offer of 13½ cents July 21.

Vic, 4 Others, 'Play Hookey'

CHICAGO (AP) — Five Republican governors were 'caught' Thursday playing hookey from the 47th annual Governor's Conference.

The quintet, spotted in the gallery of some 10,000 watching the opening round of the world championship golf at the Tam O'Shanter course, were: Victor E. Anderson, Nebraska; Joseph B. Johnson, Vermont; Joe J. Foss, South Dakota; J. Caleb Boggs, Delaware; and Ford Q. Elvidge, Guam.

69 SAN MARINO CITIZENS FLY FROM U.S. TO VOTE

...Try To Beat Reds By Ballots

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Sixty-nine citizens of the world's tiniest republic arrived from the United States Thursday in a thumbnail crusade intended to liberate their native San Marino from Communist control through the ballot box.

A chartered Pan American plane brought them from New York.

Residents now of Detroit, New York and Sandusky, Ohio—but not yet U. S. citizens—they are going to vote in the San Marino elections Sunday, hoping their ballots will be sufficient to throw out the Communist-controlled coalition administering the country.

Anti-Communists have prepared a gala reception in San Marino in the mountains 180 miles away, for their allies from the United States.

The Communists won control of the 60-man Governing Council by a scant 200 votes of 4,200 cast in the 1951 elections.

Matches Tactics

Bringing voters from the United States sort of matches the Red political machine maneuvers of the past in the 25-square-mile country of 14,000 persons which is entirely surrounded by Italian territory.

Red voters have been brought in from other European countries by the left-wingers with free bus or train tickets at election time. The system paid off because the leftists have won every election since 1945. They now have a 31-29 margin on the Governing Council.

Barring a red tape snafu, those who arrived said, a second plane carring 48 more voters will leave New York in a sprint to get here before the voting.

Miss Miriam Michelotti, leader of a fight to give women the vote in San Marino, went to the United States and organized "Operation Voters" in 20 days when the leftists moved up the voting date in an effort to throw their Christian Democratic and other foes off balance.

Judge Orders State Return Gothe's Money

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—District Judge E. G. Kroger Thursday ordered the return of money which had been impounded in a gambling raid here last fall.

The state had refused to return the money to Homer Gothe, Omaha, under a state statute which provides for confiscation and destruction of gambling devices and instrumentalities of gambling.

Gothe was arrested in a raid Nov. 23 at which time $1,445 was confiscated.

He was charged with gambling, found guilty and fined $100 and costs.

Afterwards Gothe filed a petition seeking return of the money.

Ordering its return, Judge Kroger held Thursday that the Legislature could not have intended money as a gambling device to be destroyed, since federal law makes it a crime to destroy money. The judge added that money might be seized for prosecution, however.

'Miss Show Business' Merman In Hospital

DENVER (INS) — Ethel Merman, renowned musical comedy star, entered St. Luke's Hospital in Denver Thursday for a "minor operation."

Hospital attendants said the "Miss Show Business" of Hollywood and Broadway will undergo surgery Friday. They said she will return home "in a few days."

Hereford Drive Today

Lt. Gov. Charles Warner will hold a Hereford Drive at his farm east of Lincoln Friday. The Agricultural committee of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce along with cattle breeders from all over the state have been invited. A noon luncheon will be served.

$303,969 In Gas Taxes Owed Lancaster

Audit Shows 23 Counties Were Underpaid In 1950-54

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Gas tax funds totaling $303,969.08 are due Lancaster County.

This is shown in an audit, computed in accordance with a Lancaster District Court ruling on the proper allocation of funds involved in Nebraska's gas tax controversy. The audit also shows 23 counties were paid too little in gas tax funds in 1950-54.

The audit was presented Thursday to Lancaster District Judge Harry Spencer at a hearing in the suit brought by former State Treasurer Frank B. Heintze against the 93 counties for a court interpretation of the gas tax law in effect for the years 1950 through 1954.

At an earlier hearing, Judge Spencer ruled that Heintze had used outdated census and motor vehicle registration figures in distributing the gas tax funds.

The audit, made in accordance with the distribution formula set down by the court, showed that 23 of the 93 counties were paid less than their proper share of the gas tax funds distributed by Heintze for 1950 through September, 1954.

Undistributed Funds

Lancaster County was "shorted" $112,601.28 in gas funds distributed by Heintze. The balance of the $303,969 due the county is the county's share of the nearly $3 million which was not distributed to the counties in October, November, and December, 1954, but was deposited by Heintze with the court after the controversy arose.

Other counties underpaid and the amount of underpayment are:

Adams, $15,278	Kimball, $3,634
Banner, $1,402	Lincoln, $18,926
Box Butte, $3,262	Madison, $11,792
Cheyenne, $50,826	Merrick, $1,778
Colfax, $564	Phelps, $5,549
Cuming, $1,815	Platte, $6,404
Dakota, $6,691	Sarpy, $88,214
Dawson, $3,538	Scotts Bluff, $9,868
Dodge, $20,027	Stanton, $1,023
Douglas, $289,834	Washington, $3,645
Hall, $55,313	Wayne, $2,400

All 93 counties have money due them from the amount deposited in court from the undistributed gas tax funds for October, November, and December, 1954.

Offset Ruling Waited

Amounts of overpayment to 70 counties range from $36,463.23 to Custer County to $501.99 to Cass County.

Judge Spencer has yet to rule on the question of "offset" — whether the underpaid counties can be paid from the funds deposited with the court by subtracting the amounts overpaid to the other counties from the funds undistributed for the last three months in 1954.

While the question of "offset" has not been finally determined, Judge Spencer indicated his present position is that offset would be allowed. The plaintiff has argued that such was allowed in similar cases in Michigan and Tennessee.

Atty. John J. Wilson, attorney for Heintze, said he believed sufficient funds were on deposit if offset is used in final distribution.

Two other questions to be argued at the final gas tax hearing set for Sept. 6 are whether Heintze can be held personally liable for mistakes in the amounts paid and whether estoppel — a legal bar which would keep Heintze from reclaiming any excess funds paid— can be invoked.

Judge Spencer indicated there would be no estoppel.

State Agencies Show Saving From Budgets

State agencies during the 1953-55 binennium made considerable savings from the amount appropriated by the Legislature. Gov. Robert Crosby shortly after the appropriations were made urged all department heads to practice restraint and try and keep expenditures well below the amount appropriated.

The Board of Control headed the list in dollar savings with $4,320,693 or about 15 per cent of the $28,048,000 appropriated.

The Building Commission reported that 59 per cent of its $25,678 budget was saved, leaving a balance of $15,193. L. N. Ress, state engineer, explained that this was largely due to highway department engineers doing the engineering on terrace repairs which it had been expected would cost the commission $10,000.

The insurance department made a 14 per cent saving to allow a carry-over of $29,000 from its $205,000 appropriation. Department of Agriculture and Inspection saved a like percentage with a carryover of $104,000 from its $718,000 appropriation.

Other departments report that their carryover does not represent a true picture of their finances. Director James Ramsey of the Department of Aeronautics says the 33 per cent that department saved is committed for airport projects.

The Murals Commission has $12,436 unexpended out of the $40,000 appropriated but this money is committed for murals now being painted for the rotunda.

The custodian's office with savings of $150,840 form its $701,968 budget accounts for $60,000 of it by reason of not yet having spent it for a new northeast elevator.

Roads Department Not Party To Gas Tax Controversy

The State Department of Roads and Irrigation, which received $288,121.05 in gas tax funds which should have gone to the counties, will not be made a party to Nebraska's gas tax controversy.

Former State Treasurer Frank Heintze, plaintiff in the case, had attempted to bring the department into the action as a defendant with the 93 counties.

In sustaining a demurrer of the highway department, which blocks Heintze's attempt to bring the department into the suit, Judge Spencer noted he had earlier sustained a similar objection for Heintze.

In other arguments, Heintze's attorneys contended the former treasurer could not be held personally liable for "executive mistakes without malice" as to the $288,121.05.

Heintze was required to use his judgment in distributing the funds as required by law and the counties cannot now claim liability after acquiescing to the executive's judgment, his attorney said.

Judge Spencer said the mistakes made, not only by Heintze but also by treasurers who preceded him, came "pretty close to willful disregard of the law."

A breakdown of the diesel fuel equalization fees paid to the state and due each county will be submitted to the court at final hearing Sept. 6.

All evidence has been submitted and the record closed except for the diesel fuel breakdown and final acceptance of the gas tax audit by the defendants.

The auditor for the defendant counties is to check the state's figures. The defense said its auditor found the 1952 gas tax figures submitted by the state to be correct.

Briefs leading to final oral argument on Sept. 6 will be submitted by Aug. 29.

Marine Reservists Split For Training

Members of Lincoln's Marine Air Reserve Fighter Squadron 113 will be divided for their annual two weeks training period.

Pilots of the squadron, which is led by Maj. Morgan O. Webb III of Lincoln, will train at the Naval Air Station at Lincoln Air Force Base from Aug. 13 to 27.

The remainder of the squadron, composed of officers and men from the Lincoln area, will participate in full scale maneuvers at the Marine Corps Air Station in El Toro, Calif.

The "Week-end Warrior" squadron is still in the process of converting to new jet aircraft.

Now It Is Power

By J. E. LAWRENCE

This is to commend Mayor Clark Jeary both for foresight and courage for calling public attention to the possibility of the need of another major investment by the people of Lincoln for acceptable utility service.

This time it is not water but electricity—adequate generating capacity to take care of the natural growing needs of a growing community. It may be advisable to spend a million dollars for increased generating facilities to supply this city with the electricity it must have if all consumption requirements are to be met. Or as an alternative, the community might be faced with brown-out measures to curtail air-conditioning in the heat of summer in the immediate years ahead.

There is nothing to be gained, the old saw suggests, in shedding tears over spilled milk. But the fact remains that those directly responsible over the years both for water supply and for electric supply have not been, it would appear, too far-sighted in anticipating Lincoln's needs. That responsibility must fall squarely upon the shoulders of Dave Erickson. The time came when available water supply was wholly inadequate for actual needs, with the result that rationing became necessary. The time may not be too distant when this community finds itself short on electricity. Happily if that develops, any program of expansion for more generation could be financed through revenue bonds, paid out of future earnings, without becoming a direct tax burden. It should be understood at the beginning that Mayor Jeary and the present city government are not responsible for the present situation. It is a rather sad story going back to previous city administrations—complicated in its details—far too long to spread out in any single issue of the newspaper in any discussion of a looming electric shortage, due to lack of adequate generating facilities.

It will be recalled that some years ago Mr. Erickson and some of the members of the Lincoln City Council waged a stout campaign to condemn Consumers' distribution lines. They were to be integrated into what was called a single system. At the time naturally there was little, comparatively little discussion of generating facilities. All of the talk was based upon taking over Consumers, at a possible cost under condemnation of as much as $8½ million. And at the time this was going on, the boast was that the City Light Plant had a surplus of $760,000 in earnings. That surplus soon melted away when it came to replacement of worn-out machinery, including a turbine in use at the A Street plant since 1913, more than a quarter of a century earlier.

It is enough to say that in the judgment of many, there was a lot of foolish thinking at the time. But that reaches back to the past. What we are really concerned with is the future and as far as humanly possible, the avoidance of mistakes in the future.

Up And Up She Goes

There may be the disposition on the part of Lincoln's city taxpayers to moan either loudly or softly when some months hence they come to settling up for the aggregate levy by all the political subdivisions—including the state, the county, the sanitary district, the public schools, and the city of Lincoln itself—to which they contribute. That prospective levy of 71.615 mills upon every thousand dollars of property, real or personal, is the highest in the history of this community based upon the present system of valuation. It means that every home-owner will pay $71.61½ upon every thousand dollars of assessed valuation when the 1955 levy is applied.

That compares to an aggregate 26.43 mills in 1925; 30.95 mills in 1935; 34.62 mills in 1945; 46.39 mills in 1950; 61.27 mills in 1954; and the peak, 71.61 mills for 1955.

Up and up she goes, year after year—usually up and rarely down. It is a matter of deepest concern for the home-owners. There is a limit to that amount which home-owners enjoying only modest incomes can pay.

It is only fair to point out that a part of this increase can be attributed to inflation, or the cheap dollar. It is also only fair to suggest that from the low point in 1925 to the peak in 1955, the city of Lincoln has enjoyed a phenomenal growth, expanding its residential sections enormously, requiring more by way of services, confronted with the school population constantly growing.

It must be said that if we seek progress, then we must expect to pay for it. Today one of the big jobs confronting public officials is to determine what is important and unavoidable in the expenditure of public funds— what may be classed as desirable, yet in the nature of luxury. And above all, that steady increase in levies, not limited to any single political subdivision—state, county or city—but reflected in all, with the schools calling for the most of all, adds immeasurably to the responsibilites which public officials have toward their constituency.

Still The Same

It was quite a clambake Premier Bulganin and his top Russian colleagues staged last week for the foreign diplomats and the press.

They used an estate once owned by Count Gregory Orlov, who was a court favorite in the days of Catherine the Great. Today's rulers frolicked in great spirit, exhibiting sweetness and light. Generals picked strawberries, some admirals and guests fell out of a boat and got all wet. Bands played and caviar was ankle deep around the yard.

It was a nice party, but anyone pensive enough to be history-minded could have spent a few thoughtful moments inquiring into the present regime's deed to the place. The day the estate changed hands was an eventful one for the former owners who evidently could not run faster than the secret police.

But so what? Count Orlov, in his time, was a man of quick and firm transactions, too. In a moment of extreme friendship for Catherine, he got rid of her husband, Peter III, saving the dainty Catherine the distasteful task of doing it herself. After that he staged parties on his newly-acquired estate, too. The main thing we make of it is that Russia doesn't change a great deal.

Business Responsibility

Congress failed to close in on the question of what to do with government dollar-a-year men. It ended its last-moment discussion of them hanging on two or three suggestions. One would have them file a list of firms with which they have had gainful connections. Another would reduce them to the role of advice-givers. A third would require them to make a special report to government of their income and its sources while they are in public service.

It is probably just as well that Congress took no hasty action. Severe limitations would cast a cloud over the intentions and service of the vast majority of public workers without pay whose records are spotless.

It is proper that the indiscretions of the few receive an airing, and warning given to all that free public service should not mean self-seeking service. That should be enough to warn business and industry itself to apply the pressure of sternest ethics on any of its representatives taking non-compensated government posts, for after all it is the presence of the few unethical servants who cast doubt and suspicion on all business and industry.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

It was getting to be an old story. Once again the scholastic average of undergraduate women students at the University of Nebraska topped the average scholastic standing compiled by the men enrolled in that institution. The women's average was 6.152, the equivalent of slightly under 81, pretty nice going, if you're asking us; the men ended up with an average of about 77, four points lower, both being based upon the work completed in the second semester of the last school year.

★

One of the great developments of a glittering century of progress and achievement is the progress women have made in fields not accorded them in everyday thought earlier. It is not necessary to march back too many years to the time when the man as the head of the home, and its support, was looked upon as the one to be considered when it came to higher education. More and more, women have demonstrated their capacity to meet men on equal basis in the great majority of the fields of endeavor; more and more, opportunity has opened to them. It has been a characteristic of the West, as contrasted to the Orient, that woman's estate has improved, a development so deserved and so welcome. If in the classroom or downtown in the working world, there was a disposition on the part of men to look upon the place of women in condescending spirit, then the male of the species was in for a rude awakening.

World Doth Progress

★

We are forced to the conclusion that the bark is worse than the bite, both out on the farm and in the city. Nebraska had anything but a bright, promising prospect for the small grain harvest in the earlier weeks of the spring growing season. Then it was dry and menacing. At the close of the harvest it is disclosed that Nebraska's wheat fields yielded an all-time record average number of bushels per acre of golden grain—better than any other year on record in this state including 1942. Oats and other small grain did well. No single factor could be picked out as responsible for the gratifying result—it was only one of those good miracles over which people rejoice—but one of the chief causes of the unexpected harvest was the more generous use of fertilizer on the land.

★

Back in Washington, spokesmen for the Department of Agriculture and Secretary Benson had news for the farmers of the nation. They, the farmers, were assured of record production, taking into consideration everything that comes from the rural areas.. It will be a little bit difficult for thousands of farm families in the heat-harassed Middle West to gulp down Secretary Benson's optimistic August report on the shape of things out on the farm. Nebraskans, eying the corn fields which took heavy punishment in the closing days of July and early August, and even more, neighboring Kansans know only too well that prospects for a record corn crop disappeared in thin air. But this is a big country and because it is so big, there are the contradictions. More and more, a bright new Deep South is claiming its place in the sun. It has planted more corn in recent fleeting seasons, and it is making progress in the production of cattle. The Deep South, it appears, will do much better than usual in the production of corn at the same time that it has been moving forward swiftly in livestock. All of this must be taken into consideration on a national scale.

That Bright New South

What the Midwest farmer objects to, however, is the market influence of a temporary character of crop estimates which may or may not be fulfilled. Farm commodity prices for months have been drifting lower. The price level will not be helped by glowing reports from the Department of Agriculture with reference to production yet to materialize.

Power Lobby Wields Weighty Influence

WASHINGTON — Some people were surprised when the Federal Power Commission waited two days until after Congress adjourned then announced a decision to turn Hell's Canyon, last big remaining dam site in the U.S. over to the Idaho Power Company.

The backstage story illustrates the manner in which lobbyists pretty much get what they want in Washington today.

They were even able to put across the Hell's Canyon award to Idaho Power despite the fact that a House of Representatives committee had admittedly by a thin margin, already voted against it, despite the fact that the Senate Interior Committee was split 50-50, and despite the fact that an FPC examiner, William J. Costello, had recommended that it would be more efficient to develop this vast natural reservoir on the Snake River by the federal government than the piecemeal operation proposed by Idaho power.

Reason for his recommendation was that the three small dams proposed by Idaho power would yield 400,000 less kilowatts than the one high dam proposed by Sen. Morse of Oregon and proponents of federal power.

BIGGEST LOBBY OF ALL

Behind the Federal Power Commission, however, has been operating one of the most skillful lobbies in Washington. It wines and dines the FPCommissioners, takes them on free junkets around the country, operates through local electric light and gas companies to influence congressmen, and spends around a half a million dollars each year lobbying with Congress. No other lobby in Washington — and there are a lot of them —spends so much money in Washington.

The electric power companies, incidentally, have started to spend a little less now that the Eisenhower administration is in power. In 1952, the last year of Truman, the lobby spent $477,941.74. In 1953, the first year under Eisenhower, the lobby increased its Washington expenditures to $547,789.32. But next year, the lobby's registered expenditure dropped to $110,537.14. The drop was partly because of a Supreme Court ruling that all expenditures did not have to be registered.

☆ ☆ ☆

FRIEND OF LOBBYISTS

To illustrate how the lobbies operate, take the chairman of the commission, Jerome K. Kuykendall, a friendly, likeable gentleman.

When he was appointed to the commission, the utilities knew exactly what they were getting. For they helped to put Kuykendall in. Actually it was Gov. Arthur B. Langlie of Washington who recommended him to Eisenhower. Langlie had helped Ike defeat Taft's southern delegates at the 1952 Chicago convention and seated Eisenhower delegates instead.

Gov. Langlie in turn has been obligated to his strong supporters, the Washington Water Power Company and Pacific Power and Light.

When Kuykendall came to Washington he immediately came under the influence of the big power and gas lobby, among them Edward Falck, the registered lobbyist for Bridgeport Gas Light, Niagara Mohawk Power, Consolidated Edison, Commonwealth Natural Gas, Central Hudson Gas and Electric, Delaware Power and Light, Hartford Gas Co., Lynchburg Gas, the Long Island Lighting Co., New Haven Gas, New York State Electric and Gas Co., and Connecticut Light and Power.

Falck is an astute lobbyist. He earns his fees. He started as secretary to David Lilienthal when Lilienthal was chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, married the secretary of Arthur Morgan after Lilienthal's row with Morgan, later, came to Washington during the war to advise the War Production Board on utility matters.

In Washington, today Falck has so endeared himself to Chairman Kuykendall that he flew to Chicago with Kuykendall to attend the 1953 meeting of the National Association of Railroad and Utility Executives.

During the convention, Kuykendall threw a dinner for members of the executive committee.

Back in Washington in January 1954, Falck gave a party for the executive committee of the railroad and utility executives, with Chairman Kuykendall attending.

SUPPOSEDLY IMPARTIAL

The Federal Power Commission is supposed to be a judicial agency absolutely impartial in its decisions. In the past, its members have kept themselves aloof from lobbyists and lobbying social functions. Because what they decide affects the rates paid by the public for gas and electricity for future generations.

Despite this, Chairman Kuykendall allowed Mr. and Mrs. Stanley M. Morley, partner in Wheat, Shannon and May, which represents the West Coast Transmission Co., to give a party in his honor — even though West Coast Transmission at that time was applying for a certificate to serve the northwest with natural gas.

At the party also were Commissioner Seaborn Digby and Nelson Lee Smith, whose votes have usually gone to the utilities. After the party, Mr. and Mrs. Kuykendall and Commissioner Digby allowed Lobbyist Ed Falck to take them to dinner.

On another occasion the three Republican members of the commission — Kuykendall, Smith and Digby — accepted an invitation from the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association to tour the Southwest — all expenses paid.

TRUMAN CRITICISM

When Don Dawson, assistant to Harry Truman, was the week-end guest of the Hotel Saxony in Miami Beach four years ago, it was investigated by a congressional committee and made headlines from coast to coast. In contrast, neither congressional committee nor newspapers have commented on this much more expensive trip paid by a powerful lobby which has millions of dollars at stake from power commission decisions.

Not only did the Texas gas boys fly the three Republican commissioners on the junket, but they arranged special accommodations for FPC General Counsel Willard Gatchell. Since he had ear trouble and couldn't fly, the oil-gas hosts went to the expense of carrying Gatchell by special automobile.

During Hoover's administration the operation of the gas-electric lobby was the subject of a special Senate resolution and probe.

But today it operates much more blatantly — and gets away with it.

Uneasy Americans Still Unscathed In Morocco

NOUASSEUR, Morocco — Americans are the innocent bystanders in the present Moroccan turmoil but, contrary to the usual fate of those cast in that role, they have hardly been touched.

The American stake in French Morocco is four strategic air bases, fruit of long and costly U.S. planning for sure means to punish Soviet aggression. From them in a matter of minutes, the Soviet Union itself could be reached with nuclear bombs should cause exist for doing so.

Twenty thousand Americans are in this area, mostly servicemen and their families. But since Congress has been slow to furnish money for dependent housing at the bases themselves, most of the families live in or close to cities. It is estimated that there are 3,000 in Casablanca, near here, alone.

Firm instructions have been given them by all U.S. commanders to get out and stay out of native quarters, to avoid crowds and scenes of excitement. So well have these orders been carried out, the only U.S. damage so far has been to a few American automobiles.

The U.S. military believe that the French army, unlike the city police, is completely loyal to the new resident general, Grandval, and that he has enough soldiers here to prevent serious deterioration of the situation. The Americans can easily defend their own bases and they have, of course, made prudent plans for bringing all Americans on base and even evacuating dependents, if necessary.

So far only a few families have asked to come on base and departures are on regular schedule. Still there is uneasiness, and it is chiefly because of lack of information about what is going on from day to day.

The French have been difficult from the very beginning about U.S. news and radio facilities, wanting to maintain their own tight commercial control of the protectorate. Needing the bases, the U.S. bent over backward to reassure them. In the present crisis, U.S. orders are even stricter than political controversy and news of Moroccan internal disputes must be avoided by U.S. sources.

Thus the written and spoken news about what goes on is almost entirely in French. Few of the Americans here can speak or read it. This perhaps suggests a flaw that can and should be remedied but it is too late for that to help now.

Fortunately, perhaps, the Americans appear rather distinctively different from the French here and the Arabs. They have taken to putting American flags in their cars and, of course, obey Grandval's strict curfews.

What the U.S. base commanders really worry about is their budget for next year. Their facilities are vastly improved over two years ago but their commitments are also being constantly expanded. Trailers have begun to trickle in for base trailer camps but as present outside housing becomes available, it is eagerly snapped up by men who have waited, some of them a long time, to bring their families.

"We had to do more this year with the same amount of money and maybe we should have," one commander said. "But it's not a trick you can repeat indefinitely in this business."

Russians To The North—Bullheads Go South

By MONA B. PARKER

It's tent-pitching time in Sherman County and the young son of Columnist Marj Travis has staked his outdoor diggin's smack in the middle of his mother's already "frail and weedy" tomato patch. Knowing what little boys' dreams are made of, she doesn't seem too perturbed at the loss, however, evidently preferring to contribute to happy memories for the young "Indians that shriek and sprint around."

Mary Packwood has a legitimate garden gripe, though, that she airs in the Johnson County Courier. The grasshoppers have found her new chrysanthemums and have done a strip that neither teased nor pleased Mrs. Packwood. "My choicest plants still have stems but nary a leaf, and by the time this is printed, I suppose the stems will be gone, too."

The Cambridge Clarion lists one of summer's little tragedies: "There is no way to quick-freeze watermelons and cantaloupes!"

"What an optimist!" sighed Dave Hatt at sight of another Shelbyite spreading tar on his roof to keep it from leaking. "Why waste the tar?" wondered the Sun editor.

☆ ☆ ☆

But if summer's dryness and heat have weighed a little heavy, "Monty" Montgomery has the cheering reminder in the Morrill Mail that football season is just around the corner. In fact, Morrill's Coach Yentes has already made plans for checking out suits to hopeful and promising pigskin toters.

Monty himself is ready for football. "I don't want any frost to kill the wonderful bean prospect, but good football weather is the kind where the spectators must move around to keep warm."

From the Walthill Citizen. . . .

Describing himself as the "most overtrained former National Guardsman in America," Virg Hill compared the military life he once knew with what it must be today, as symbolized by a picture the Fairbury News editor had seen of soldiers putting flowers on a mess hall table. To starve or to poison seemed to be the prime purpose of mess sergeants, cooks and KP's in his day when mess kits were cleaned with a scouring of sand or just plain dirt. The military has changed, he says a bit nostalgically. Flowers on the table? Huh-uh . . . "Next thing, they'll be wanting lace curtains on their pup tents."

"The neat stacks of alfalfa that have been cut and made ready for winter feed give one a feeling of security and abundance."

Zinnias and dandelions and whiskers grow faster in the summer than in winter, complains Arch Jarrell of the Grand Island Independent, rubbing a typewriter-caloused hand over his own generous and ever-present crop of chin stubble. He should shave twice a day, and thinks once a day is once too often, and thus dwells forever in a perpetual shadow — five o'clock shadow, that is. And often he looks with envious pang upon pictures of "those carefree men who flourished in the last half of the 19th century, with beards that extended below the collar line. What did they know about the torment of scraping a sensitive skin?"

The Comstock News reports that two local anglers went to Big Alkali lake last week and were surprised at the unusual co-operativeness of the bullheads, biting as though they were wild.

No Swift Peacetime Atom Evolution

GENEVA—So great is the potential of the atom that the tendency seen in this United Nations conference on its peacetime uses is to advertise the push-button millenium for day after tomorrow. There is a rough division between the optimists who tend to soar off into the wild blue future and the skeptics who want to know how the theoretical and potential are to be translated into the now and the actual.

This has been strikingly illustrated in the undercurrent of rumors that nuclear fusion — in popular understanding, the hydrogen bomb—can in a relatively short time be harnessed for peacetime uses as atomic fission is being harnessed in reactors to produce electrical power. The question was brought into the foreground by Homi J. Bhabha, president of the conference and director of India's atomic research project. Bhabha, in his inaugural address, said that the explosive force of the hydrogen bomb, producing temperatures equivalent to those in the interior of the sun, would be controlled for the service of mankind in 20 years. Then he said the energy problems of the world will be solved forever.

According to those close to the Indian scientist, he is prepared to advance the date of this millenium from 1975 to 1960, and he may even say publicly before the end of the conference that fusion can be harnessed in five years. The Bhabha statement set off a chain reaction of speculation that should make Henry Wallace blush with shame for his modest vision of a few years back of a quart of milk for every Hottentot. In this latter-day vision a pop-up toaster would be attached to every tree in the jungle and milk would spring from every rock.

Those in the American delegation familiar with the scientific work presently being conducted and with the enormous technical and practical problems in the way of harnessing a hydrogen explosion say simply that this is bunk.

They say that only the first elementary theoretical steps have been taken and it is, therefore, not only highly visionary but perhaps also a great disservice to speak as though this could happen overnight. It leads to all kinds of false hopes among under-developed peoples who want so desperately to believe in a kind of magic by which they can advance from the stage of the oxcart to the jet plane.

The essential problem is how temperatures equivalent to those in the interior of the sun can be contained in some form of engine which will give off energy that man can utilize. Metallurgists foresee no conceivable container which would not itself be vaporized in an instant. This matter of a container or a shield remains one of the big problems in harnessing atomic fission for limited purposes, such as powering airplanes and ships.

Present research looking to control of fusion for peacetime purposes is exploring the possibility of magnetic waves concentrated in such a way as to serve as a counterforce to the fantastic power and heat of the fused hydrogen atom. This is, to put it ludicrously oversimplified fashion, research of the most complex and abstruse nature. But it is the langage of those laymen with full access to all classified knowledge who continue to say that a little caution at this stage might be a good thing, since bitter disillusion is almost certain to follow hopes raised too high.

One of these laymen is Moorhead Patterson, a member of the American delegation with the rank of ambassador, who has been negotiating the bilateral agreements with nations that want to take advantage of American help in initiating an atomic program.

He has often compared the peacetime development of the atom with the evolution of the airplane as a practical means of transportation. He points out that it was 28 years ago after the Wright brothers first powered flight in a heavier-than-air machine before an American firm developed a plane that could be sold and operated at a profit. And the problem of the airplane was, of course, simple in comparison to the current struggle to harness the atom for man's peaceful use.

Atomic fission in the phase in which we have known it during the past decade calls for raw materials dug out of the earth and purified and enriched at great cost. But if hydrogen, a component of air and water, can produce a force infinitely greater, then man has within his grasp the secret of unlimited power.

So the optimists leap with a great wave of hope across the chasm from theoretically potential to the here and the now. What the practical men are saying is that it would be tragic to fall down in this chasm when once the unreality of these hopes, in terms of time, become apparent.

Eleven Stops Made On First Day Of Hereford Tour

Friday Trip Starts At Hallam

BEATRICE, Neb. — Herefords, both Polled and Horned, were on display at 11 stops Thursday during the southeast Nebraska Hereford breeder's tour.

Purebred and commercial cattle raisers were in evidence as the tour started at Chester, Neb., with a 7 a.m. breakfast, courtesy of the Chester Womans Club and the City Club.

First stop was made at the E. G. Nesmith farm, near Chester, where the group was shown a herd that has grown from six females purchased in 1946. Nesmith had cows, calves and bulls for the cattlemen to see.

Herd sires now in use on the Nesmith place are S.L.F. Pawnee Mixer, Polled Modest Lamplighter 26th and S.L.F. Beau Lamplighter.

Duey Farm

Next stop was at the Fred C. Duey & Son Polled Hereford farm which was established in 1941 with Advance Domino and Anxiety bred females. Real Ploto Domino 63, Advance Domino 38, ALF Beau Rollo 11, Real Leskau Domino D. Alpine and the present herd bull, G Double President have all been used extensively. The last three herd bulls have all been 100 per cent dehorners.

The herd sire, replacement heifers and cows with calves at side were seen at the third stop at the L. E. Welch & Son Polled Hereford establishment. The cow herd is of Domino and WHR breeding, with the polled charateristic being added with the purchase of the present herd sire (Polled) Prince Lad 30 from Kenneth Kuhlman of North Platte.

Fourht stop was at the K Cove Hereford farms, near Reynolds, operated by Franklin Kyker and his son. This herd numbers 45 cows and two bulls. In 1947 he purchased 16 cows of WHR and Domino breeding from Glen Gibbs dispersion, Manchester, Kan. Eight cows of Lamplighter breeding were added later.

Herd Started in '19

Menno Claassen's Polled Herefords, Beatrice, were viewed at the fifth stop. The cow herd established in 1919, yearling bulls and bred and open heifers by VR Domino and the last son of MC Royal Domino were yarded for inspection by the tour goers. VR Domino was first in class and second top selling bull in the Southeast Iowa Hereford Association show and sale in April, 1955.

Three daughters of Beau Mischief made the foundation for the establishment of the herd seen at the Claassen Brothers Farms, near Beatrice. The polled herd bull battery includes C. B. Husker Domino 7th and NZ Advanced Seth 984th.

One of the older herds in this section of the state was shown at the Polled Hereford farm of W. Lin Doty, Burchard. This herd was started with Anxiety 4th breeding, with Mischief and Domino blood being introduced. Herd sires Battle President and McDon Domino 5th have added to the improvement of the herd.

Eighth stop on the agenda was at Erich Tegtmeier's Polled Hereford farm, near Burchard. Prince Real Domino and Hervaleer Mixer, from Hervale Farms are the sires in service now.

Cows and calves, two-year-old heifers, herd bulls and yearling bulls were ready for inspection at the next stop on the Leonard Turnbull farm, Burchard. WH Cascade and Aster Domino 1st, partnership with C. J. Warner & Sons of Waverly, are in service now.

Near Steinauer, the Ridge Acre Farm was next in line for a stop by the tour. Ten heifers by Spartan Domino, purchased by H. L. Boehmer in 1940, started this herd. In 1946 Ole LeSeur became a partner and the farm became known as Ridge Acre Farm. TH Revelation 142, NB Royal Duke 12 and Supreme Lamplighter are the herd bulls now in service.

Last stop of the day was made at the Erwin L. Stutheit farm, near Humboldt. This herd was started in 1950 with two cows purchased from the Kramer dispersion in Deshler, Neb. Present herd bulls are H. R. Duke Intense 52 and RDS Duke Pride 28, owned jointly with John Flessner of Burr.

Lunch was served at the Claassen Bros. Farms, courtesy of the Beatrice Chamber of Commerce.

Ten stops are scheduled for the second day of the tour, Friday, which will assemble at Hallam at 7:30 a.m.

Youths Are Hope Of Church, Says African Religious Leader

Lincoln Star Special

MILFORD, Neb. — The Rev. T. S Bangura, wearing a native gown made by his mother, a member of the Temne tribe in Africa, addressed 150 persons at the adult assembly of the Nebraska Conference, Evangelical United Brethren Church.

The Rev. Mr. Bangura, pastor of the Sierra Leone Conference in Africa, said after being in the United States about a year he has found America is "a land of many questions."

Asked his first impression of America, he said he discovered after he came here that not all Americans are Christians though he had always thought everyone in America was a Christian.

The Rev. Mr. Bangura, who will speak at a young people's camp here Sunday, said he believes the hope of the church is in the young people.

Enrollment Up

Enrollment in vacation churci

Enrollment in vacation church school for children through sixth grade is 47, larger than last year.

Mrs. John Eversole of Alma and Roma Berger of Woodruff, Kan., are kindergarten teachers.

In charge of the primary division are Ramona and Mary Watkins of Lincoln.

Teachers for the junior group are Mrs. Kenneth Koelling of Ord and Lorene Hays of Hastings.

The Rev. William E. Daeschner of Denver concluding a course in church and family life, told 60 adult laymen attending the class "It should be fun to be a Christian."

Mrs. John F. Wichelt of Kearney is president of the Women's Society of World Service which opened its convention Thursday evening.

About 230 women are expected to attend the annual banquet Friday evening.

These women's societies will be recognized for attaining in the past year all 13 of their goals in a program of growth: Cambridge, DeWitt, Finchville, Imperial, Lincoln Southminster, Murdock, Omaha Harford and Winslow.

Suit Filed To Restrain Loup Water Limits

ORD, Neb. (AP) — An injuction suit is on file in Valley County District Court to restrain Loup River Public Power District from limiting North Loup Valley irrigators to 38,000 cubic feet of water annually for their crops.

County Judge Ellsworth Ball issued a writ good for 10 days to prevent any regulation of the water flow.

A hearing is scheduled for Aug. 20 before District Judge William F. Spikes on a temporary restraining order.

The petition was filed in behalf of the North Loup Valley Water Users Assn. It also asks that the power district be restrained from limiting irrigator to 260 cubic feet of water per second.

The North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District also was made a party to the suit as the regulator of the water in the river.

Action is pending in federal court to determine the relative water rights of the power district and the irrigators.

The attorney general had ruled that the 38,000 cubic foot limit applied under state law and water rights contracts.

Sidney Baby Found Dead In His Crib

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—Robert J. Kinnersley Jr., one-and-one-half-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kinnersley, was found dead in his crib Thursday, his parents reported.

The county attorney's office said the cause of death had not been determined and a pathological examination was ordered.

Call Issued For Rulo Bridge Bonds

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — The Richardson County board of commissioners has issued a call for $36,00 in bridge bonds on the Missouri River bridge at Rulo. The first bonds to be retired since the bridge was opened in 1940.

No bonds were retired in earlier years because of insufficient revenue.

The original bond issue of $435,000 represented about 60 per cent of the original cost of the bridge.

Lutherans Adopt $126,700 Budget For '56

Building Plan Approved As Meeting Ends

Lincoln Star Special

SEWARD, Neb.—The Southern Nebraska District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod Thursday adopted a district budget of $126,700 for 1956. Approximately $75,000 of this will be expended in the support of the 26 mission congregations of the District, and the institional work being carried on in Lincoln, Beatrice, Nebraska City, Grand Island and Kearney.

In the closing session of its convention here Thursday, the District assumed $290,000 of the synod's $12,900,000 budget for 1956. The church extension fund will receive $7,500 and $2,000 will go into the mission chapel fund.

The District also resolved to establish the office of executive secretary of missions and stewardship. A full-time man will be called to take this position and to advise the congregation of the District in these areas. E. C. Mueller of Lincoln will continue to fill the position of executive secretary of education.

The Rev. D. F. Luebke, Walton, reported on the Lutheran Refugee Service which the Missouri Synod is carrying on jointly with the National Lutheran Council. He stated that the $3,000,000 budget for the current three-year period was proving inadequate to care for all refugee needs.

Dr. Walter F. Lichtsinn of Hammond, Ind., third vice president of the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod, reported on the progress of the synod's foreign mission program.

The convention adopted a resolution permitting the District Church Extension Board to borrow $500,000 through interest - bearing loans from the members of the District. This sum, together with a present capital fund of $250,000, will provide three-fourths of a million dollars for the building of churches, schools, and parsonages in Southern Nebraska and Southern Wyoming.

The Rev. Arnold Meyer, Denver, a regional stewardship representative of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, told the delegates that the $12,900,000 budget which the Synod has adopted for 1956, "is not an ordinary increase. Rather it is a result of a new policy which will attempt to eliminate large drives for capital investments by including a portion for expansion and construction in the annual Synodical Budgets."

The delegates elected to attend the Synodical Conference Convention in 1956 were: pastors, H.L.W. Schuetz, Ogallala, and E. Frese, Beatrice, alternates, Joseph Gerken, Bertrand, and A. Cholcher, Hampton; teacher, E. Scheer, alternate, Arthur Wyatt, Holdrege.

Richard Griesse, Kearney, was elected to the mission board. J. Holtzen, York, was elected to the housing committee.

Book Stacking Methods Are Reviewed

Dr. Edith P. Stickney, right, teacher of the library workshop at Midland College, reviews book stacking methods in a section of the college library as a part of the workshop course for, from left, Mrs. Thelma Bugbee, Auburn, Mrs. Dale Kamrath, Valley, and Miss Mary Minarick, North Bend. Thirteen Women, One Man Attend Library Workshop

Lincoln Star Special

FREMONT, Neb.—Library work can be a man's game, too, maintains Vernon Bloemker, Midland College senior of Fremont.

And he's doing all he can to make himself good at it despite the fact it means being the only male student in a class of 14 in the Midland Library Workshop.

The workshop, only one of its kind in Nebraska, has attracted students from all across the state. Dr. Edith P. Stickney, Midland librarian and teacher of the workshop, planned it in consultation with Miss Louise Nixon, of the Nebraska Public Library Commission.

Bloemker, an English major and a top student at Midland, said he is taking the workshop to improve his research ability, and to give him additional background for teaching. He plans to teach English after graduation.

The two-and-one-half week workshop ends Friday.

It includes study of the operation of a small library; book cataloging, and classification; book selection and processing; and binding.

Other students in the workshop, being taught in Midland's new $185,000 library:

Miss Martha Brockman, Monroe; Mrs. Dale Kamrath, Valley; Miss Mary Minarick, North Bend; Mrs. Verlene Saltzman, Deshler; Mrs. Verna Spoonhour, Cedar Bluffs; Miss Betty Vachal, Morse Bluff; Mrs. Mae Wagner, North Bend; Miss Melba Faucett, Omaha; Miss Esther Lottman, Arlington; Mrs. Thelma Bugbee, Auburn; Miss Helen Lindstrom, Kearney; Miss Hazel Shostrom, Kearney; and Miss Verna Robinson, Sidney.

Disabled Vets Need Aid From Business, Industry—Anderson

CHICAGO (AP) — Veterans disabled by injuries received in military service need co-operation from business and industry to obtain employment supplementing government benefits, Gov. Victor Anderson of Nebraska sair Thurs-Anderson of Nebraska said Thurs-by the Disabled American Veterans..

The DAV headquarters said Anderson made this comment in answer to a query on "What, in your opinion, does the disabled veteran need most." The statement was directed to the 34th national convention of the DAV to be held in Des Moines, Aug. 14-30.

Gov. Anderson's statement said: "Veterans who are disabled because of injuries received in the service of the Armed Forces are presently receiving monetary benefits from the Federal Government which, in many cases, are inadequate for them to provide a living for their families. This type of veteran needs the co-operation of businessmen and industry in furnishing to him employment which will enable him to supplement his federal compensation sufficiently to provide a decent standard of living for himself and his dependents.

"Care for the aged chronically ill veteran presents a problem of another type. This veteran, in most instances, is not eligible for sufficient federal pension to provide for him the care he needs and is unable to follow any gainful occupation. He needs nursing care. Nebraska has recently made provisions in their Soldiers' and Sailors' Home at Grand Island for a limited number of this type of case.

"We must continue to enlarge this program as much as possible to take care of all of our veterans who need this service."

Jet Flies Route Of Mormon Trail In Hour And Half

CASPER, Wyo. (AP) — Nebraska National Guard Capt. James Kretschmer of Omaha made a 1 hour, 32 minutes, 30 second jet plane flight from Council Bluffs, Iowa, to Casper along the route of the old Mormon Trail.

Kretschmer's flight was arranged to launch a parade which officially began the Central Wyoming Fair and Rodeo.

From Council Bluffs, Kretschmer's F80 scooted west to the North Platte River, which he then followed over Grand Island, North Platte and Scottsbluff, and Torrington, Wyo.

In 1847, Mormon settlers made the long trek by covered wagon in 68 days.

Child At Odell Fatally Hurt

ODELL, Neb. (AP) — Victoria Jean Schramm, 17 months old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Schram of Odell, was killed Thursday when she wandered into the path of a slowly moving truck.

The truck driven by Conrad Arntt, Odell, was leaving the Schramm farm yard with a load of hogs.

Arntt was unaware the child had been run over and proceeded to Fairbury.

The parents discovered the body later in the morning.

Glider Travelers Dismantle Craft, Tow Plane Home

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — Two New Jersey couples who had attempted to fly a new sailplane from Denver, Colo., to Boonton, N .J., have given up their venture.

The four left Denver July 30, but unfavorable winds plagued them all the way across Nebraska. They finally dismantled their craft in Falls City and started towing it eastward.

Dr. George Downsbrough, Boonton, owner of the glider, said they might try their luck again when they get close to the east coast. Others in the party are Mrs. Downsbrough and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Potter of Plainfield, N. H.

The plane is equipped with a 40-horsepower motor used for takeoffs. Once in the air the motor and its four-foot propeller retracts into the fuselage. The glider has a wingspan of 54 feet.

Stricken South Sioux City Youth Entertained Royally On Birthday

OMAHA (AP) — Oren Stingley of South Sioux City, Neb., has mighty poor prospects for a birthday celebration on his 11th birthday until Immanuel Hospital nurses and auxiliary members went to work on the project.

Oren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stingley of South Sioux City, underwent throat surgery last week in efforts to resotre his voice, which had left him when he was stricken with bulbar polio three years ago.

With seven other children at home, his parents could not come to Omaha to help put on the birthday party so the hospital attendants, nurses, auxiliary members and their children, relatives and other friends of Oren crowded into his room with gifts, and a birthday cake. Two 13-year-old magicians put on a special magic show for him—and as a special gift showed him the secret of some of their tricks.

"I've been around this hospital a long time," said Mrs. Gus Wickstrom of the auxiliary, "but I've never seen another child so brave through so much pain. . ."

Dr. Moll Heads Midland Speakers

FREMONT, Neb. (AP) — Dr. Edwin Moll, New York City, former director of the Lutheran World Federation's Near East Branch, heads the list of speakers for the Midland Assembly August 14 through the 19th.

Dr. Moll returned to the United States last year after eight years in the Near East.

The annual church leadership school for United Lutherans will attract attendants from the midwest area.

The Rev. Ernest Messer, Falls City, Neb., is director of the workshop.

Ex-Officer Charged With Lifting Secret Document

. . . Took It With Him To Velde Committee Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former Air Force intelligence agent was arrested Thursday on an indictment charging he misused a secret Air Force document and then lied about it.

He is Rea S. Van Fosson, who was separated from the service last November for giving the House Un-American Activities Investigating Committee a classified report from Air Force files.

Van Fosson, arrested by U.S. marshals at his home in Silver Spring, Md., posted a $1,000 bond in U.S. District Court here and was released for arraignment next Thursday. The postponement was ordered to give him time to obtain a lawyer.

Van Fosson, a veteran of 14 years service and a decorated airman of World War II, resigned from the Air Force last Nov. 23 and was hired the next day as an $8,200 investigator for the Un-American Activities Committee.

The committee then was under the chairmanship of Rep. Velde (R-Ill). When the Democrats organized Congress in January Velde was succeeded by Rep. Walter (D-Pa) and Walter said Thursday his first official act was to "fire the man."

The document which committee aides said Van Fosson had delivered to the House group was described at the time as an FBI file on a person about whom the committee then was taking testimony in closed session.

The indictment against Van Fosson said the document was a 113-page file, prepared by the FBI in December, 1952, on Jay Lovestone, who helped organize the Communist party in the United States but who was expelled from the party in 1929 by Joseph Stalin.

Lovestone is now executive secretary of the AFL's Free Trade Union Committee.

The indictment against Van Fosson accused him of unlawfully removing and unlawfully converting to his own use a classified document from the files of the Air Force office of special investigation.

Mrs. McFadden Rites Saturday

Funeral of Mrs. Margaret McFadden, 62, of 3rd and Van Dorn, who died Thursday, will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at Roper and Sons Chapel, the Rev. Lloyd Bliss officiating.

Burial will be at Wyuka.

Born in Lincoln, Mrs. McFadden has lived here during her entire lifetime.

Surviving are her daughter, Donna Jean McFadden of Lincoln; brothers, Edward and Henry Little, both of Lincoln, and David Little of Roca; and sisters, Mrs. Ellen Rohrig and Mrs. Sadie Foster, both of Lincoln, Mrs. Sarah Mong of Oshkosh and Mrs. Mary Haskell of Chappell.

LEADING LADY JEAN BRADLEY DIES OF POLIO

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Jean Bradley, 28, blonde leading lady of the American troupe touring Europe in "Oklahoma!" died suddenly Thursday night. She was stricken with polio Wednesday.

Jean Bradley

Miss Bradley had won Milan's discriminating audiences for her performance as Laurey in the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical. Newspaper critics singled her out for praise.

Thursday night's performance was canceled when her death was announced and the company management said the remainder of its European tour may be called off.

Miss Bradley in private life Mrs Al Checco, was born in Philadelphia in 1927.

Checco, also a member of the company, was at his wife's bedside at her death.

Other members of the company said Miss Bradley first began suffering headaches a week ago She had insisted performing each night until her condition suddenly became serious.

Impromptu Stripper Given Term In Prison After Boss Complains

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Miss Iletia Davis, 26, was fined $226 and sentenced to 60 days in women's prison for doing an impromtu strip at a truck terminal Thursday.

When Manager Frank Pryor called police and told them the woman entered the building and stripped to the waist, he said:

"She annoyed the workers."

Polio Insurance Suit Hearing Set

Federal District Judge John W. Delehant has set hearing for Aug. 27 on the U.S. government's request for a new trial involving a polio insurance policy assigned by a veteran to the Veterans Administration Hospital at Lincoln. An appeal to higher courts has been predicted.

The government's claim for $4,300.69 against the defendant company was dismissed by Judge Delehant in a ruling that the policy could not be assigned to the VA.

The policy was for payment of "actual expenses" in medical treatment and hospitalization, but the judge said no recovery could be made because the veteran was admitted under a federal law which required the veteran be "financially unable to pay."

Gallagher Prosecution Winds Up Case

NEW YORK (AP)—A sixth witness Thursday described Sgt. James C. Gallagher as the murderer of two sick American prisoners of war in Korea. With his testimony, the prosecution rested its case.

The witness was Stephen A. Rada of Branch Dale, Pa., who interrupted his honeymoon in a New York hotel to take the witness stand at Gallagher's Army court martial. Rada was married only last Saturday.

A hut mate of Gallagher's in a Red Chinese prison camp, Rada testified he saw the sergeant throw the two prisoners—Donald T. Baxter of Waukon, Ia., and John W. Jones of Detroit — into 40 below zero cold to die.

The witness described how Jones apparently pleaded for his life.

Like other eyewitnesses to the slayings, Rada said he was too sick himself to interfere.

"I thought I was going to die any day," he added.

Conviction could bring Gallagher a life sentence at hard labor, as the first Korean veteran accused of slaying fellow Americans in prison.

One earlier witness, Sgt. Alfred R. McMillan of Sneads, Fla., was recalled to the witness stand briefly Thursday. He quoted Gallagher as having told him in 1952:

"I know I'm a sorry son of a - - - -, how I threw the men out of the squad along with a lot of other things."

Gallagher's court-martial began Aug. 3.

At the conclusion of the prosecution case, two of the prosecution witnesses were called as first witnesses for the defense.

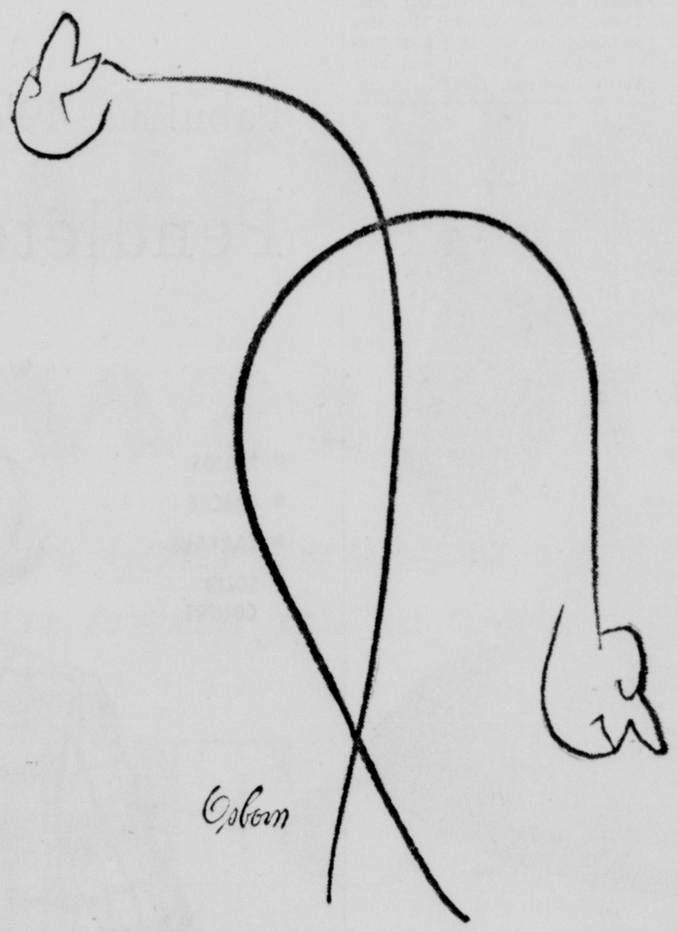
No. 18 in a series of RARE CREATURES



THE WILLOWY WISP has a natural bent—in any direction

The WISP is a retailer who can be talked into almost anything – when it comes to national advertising support.

He's not sure where he's going because he's always being led.

He's absolutely sold on newspapers for his own advertising but lacks the foresight to urge manufacturers to use it, too.

Fortunately the WISP is a rare creature.

Most retailers know that a manufacturer's advertising helps them best in their daily newspaper – close to their own advertising.

Most retailers know that newspapers are the action medium.

That's why local advertising in newspapers stacks up to over $2,000,000,000 a year – nearly six times the amount local advertisers put into radio, more than eleven times the amount they put into television.

Smart retailers and manufacturers realize that nowhere can they advertise together so productively as in the newspaper.

All business is local . . . and so are all newspapers!

Industrial Boom Is Cut Back

U.S. Halts $6 Billion In Tax Favors

By GARDNER L. BRIDGE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government put something of a damper Thursday on the great industrial expansion boom that started when the Communists hit South Korea five years ago.

It called a halt on tax incentives for more than six billion dollars worth of proposed plants and equipment, pending a study of where the nation now stands from a defense production standpoint. This study will take "a month or more," defense mobilization officials said, and after it, some of the incentives may be offered anew.

The cutoff, which industry had been expecting, took the form of an immediate shutdown on the granting of "rapid writeoff" tax concessions for new plants and equipment in 19 industries and a suspension of action on applications in 38 other industries.

Expansion plans amounting to more than six billion dollars are affected by the combined shutoff and suspension.

Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming issued the order less than a month after Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told a House subcommittee that the program of tax incentives should be shelved or slowed down. Humphrey cited the cost in tax revenues and said the program was giving some companies an advantage over others.

Suspended pending further study are tax benefit applications in such industries as electric power, steel, railroads, oil, commercial aircraft and chemicals.

The tax-writeoff program was ended entirely in asbestos, lead, manganese ore, cement, tungsten, zinc, various alloying minerals, and certain tires. Applications from companies in these fields will be denied and returned.

Braniff Seeks District Court Judgement

Braniff Airways Inc., of Dallas Tex., has asked the U. S. District Court to hold invalid the Nebraska laws under which the company was obliged to pay, under protest $31,391.87 in personal taxes and penalties.

The taxes for the years 1950 through 1954, the company contends, were unlawfully assessed under state statutes which are in violation of the commerce clause o fthe federal Constitution.

Defendants are the State of Nebraska, Board of Equalization, and the state tax commissioner.

The company contends its property was assessed a proportional tax without any basis as to the time its air carriers spend in the state, and other factors.

The assessment lacks uniformity with the ad valorem tax on other carriers and instrumentalities, the company said.

Jay Saxton Rites Set For Saturday

Funeral services for Jay M. Saxton, 91, of 1819 Pepper, will be at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at Hodgman-Splain with the Rev. Paul Bartell of Wheaton, Ill., the Rev. S. K. Biffle and the Rev. Walter King, both of Lincoln, officiating.

Mr. Saxton

Mr. Saxton, who died Wednesday was born in Ellington, N. Y. and had lived in Lincoln 65 years.

He was an employee of the real estate and industrial department of the Burlington railroad 43 years before retiring.

Surviving are his wife, Anna L.; daughters, Norma R Saxton and Ethel H. Saxton, both of Lincoln; son, Dr Alton J. Saxton of Rapid City, S. D.; two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Burial will be at Wyuka.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Information Agency is using 38 languages to describe the Geneva conference on peaceful uses of atomic energy to the world. The agency is employing radio, press, photo and TV facilities and is using first hand accounts from a team of writers and commentators at the meeting.

Health Division Gets Increased Federal Funds

The State Department of Health has been notiifed that they will receive increased allotments of federal funds in nearly every category.

Most increases are modest but the fund for matching in building of non-profit hospitals over the state was increased to $1,084,302 from the $910,000 received last year.

Dr. E. A. Rogers, director of health, is at the National Guard summer training in Camp Ripley, Minn., and could not be reached for comment.

The department had contended that the 1955 Legislature did not give it needed funds. It was unknown whether the increase in federal funds would relieve the situation.

New funds given the state for the first time included $44,600 for polio vaccine distribution and $4,800 to combat venereal disease.

General health funds granted were $96,400 as compared with $94,900 last year. The mental health fund was increased from $17,800 to $23,500 and heart disease from $14,600 to $14,700. Cancer control was increased to $23,200.

Maternal and child health funds were decreased from $100,410 to $100,028 and tuberculosis control from $25,300 to $23,500.

U.S. Workers Can Keep Cool—At Own Expense

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Services Administration has announced a plan to permit federal employes to have air conditioning installed in their offices at their own expense.

The workers would pay for the equipment as individual or groups and would retain title to it. The government would provide electricity to operate the coolers and would keep the machine in repair.

How you can keep white nylon from turning gray or yellow!
(and get old nylon white again, too!)

Got any old slips in your bureau drawer, too dingy to wear but too good to throw away? Then here's good news. You can rewhiten yellowed, dingy nylon with new Surf.

Got any new nylon things you're hoping to wear a long, long time? Take heart. You can do that thing—they come through white and bright as new when you wash them in new Surf.

Scientists find a new whitener

Yes, something new has been added to Surf. The scientists have developed an ultraviolet whitener. It puts powerful ultraviolet rays (like those in sunshine) to work for you. This is not a bleach. It is not a bluing. It is not something you pay extra for. But it really rewhitens your old nylon things and keeps new nylon looking new.

Is it safe for everything?

Absolutely! You won't find a detergent on the market that will get all your wash—cotton, rayon, new and old miracle fabrics—as white and clean as Surf. It's for everything you wash, from lingerie to dungarees. And it's mild to your hands, too!

This is our promise

It comes from one of America's oldest, most trusted makers of soaps and detergents. We promise that when you wash your new white nylon slips, blouses and other things in Surf, they'll stay as white as the day you bought them. And if you'll wash your old, yellowed nylon things with new Surf, you'll see them getting whiter and whiter. After several washes you'll enjoy wearing them again.

Here's your guarantee

Look for Surf next time you're at the store. (It's in the same sky-blue and sunshine-yellow box as always.) Buy it and try it for all your wash. Then, if you don't find it beats any other detergent for getting everything white and clean, we'll return every penny you paid. No ifs, ands or buts. Better put new Surf on your shopping list right now!

Colgate's New Detergent with JUST-RIGHT SUDS will

it's Colgate's NEW AD with JUST-RIGHT SUDS

guaranteed to wash clothes cleaner and whiter than any other product... protect your machine-or your money back!

Here is the greatest detergent yet produced by science for automatic washing machines!

It's Colgate's amazing new detergent AD—with just-right suds. Cup-for-cup, AD's cleaning and whitening ingredients combine to outwash any other product in your automatic washer.

AD is guaranteed to wash clothes cleaner and whiter than any other detergent known. And it lets your machine work better and last longer, too!

Here's why: AD gives you just the right amount of suds. Not too few. Not too many. But just-right suds for your machine and for perfect washing results.

So add AD to your life today. It upsets all previous recommendations for automatic washers. And it's guaranteed to outwash any low-suds or regular detergent known. If you don't agree that AD outwashes any other detergent in any automatic machine, Colgate-Palmolive Co. will refund your money. Mail boxtop to: Colgate-Palmolive Co., Dept. C, P. O. Box 444, Jersey City 3, N. J.

Non-sudsing detergents fail to show proper amount of detergent to use. Insufficient suds may leave clothes looking grey and streaky, many housewives feel. AD, with just-right suds, gives you the cleanest and whitest wash you've ever known!

Regular detergents produce so many suds they may cause "suds lock" . . . clog your machine . . . strain its motor . . . run up extra power and repair bills for you. AD, with just-right suds, lets your machine work smoothly and properly.

AD—with just-right suds—gives you the cleanest wash possible and the whitest wash you've ever seen. And AD lets your machine work freely and easily . . . without stress or strain. For your wash and your washer, try AD. It's better—automatically!

Today try AD – to wash clothes really clean, in any type of washing machine!

Black Forest Air Crash Takes 66 GIs To Deaths

GROEMBACH, Germany (AP)—Two Flying Boxcars on U.S. Air Force formation exercises brushed wings Thursday over the Black Forest and crashed in flames, killing the 66 Americans aboard, including one Nebraskan.

The planes hit the ground near this village with tremendous explosive impact.

One of the dead was Lt. Col. Frank Little, 39-year-old Central City, Neb., native, who was the commanding officer of the 499th Engineering Batallion stationed at Karlsruh.

There were no survivors in continental Europe's worst postwar air disaster. It was the fourth worst air disaster on record.

Only eight bodies had been recovered Thursday night. They were burned beyond recognition.

The charred bodies of the other 58 victims were scattered with the wreckage over a wide area.

Both planes were smashed to bits.

Glowed Eerily

The wreckage still glowed eerily in the Forest as U. S. soldiers stood guard and kept hundreds of German sightseers away.

Nine C-19s of the 60th Troop Carrier Wing took off from Echterdingen Airfield ,near Stuttgart, about 1 p.m. in clear sunny skies. They were loaded with troops and equipment of the 7th Army for air transportation exercises.

Soon after take-off, one plane developed engine trouble and wayered in formation. It touched the tail wing of its neighbor and plunged earthward. The second plane held its course for a minute. Then it also fell.

The first plane crashed among the tall pine trees of the Black Forest just near this picturesque village. The other came down nearly three miles away in a cornfield.

Big Booms

Foresters and farm workers heard massive explosions and rushed toward the flaming wrecks to give aid.

Some foresters with their axes hacked through the fuselage and pulled out eight bodies.

But the heat from the flames became so intense they were driven back. There was little else they could do but put out a Forest fire that started.

The 55 soldiers and 11 airmen on the two planes all wore parachutes but none had time to jump.

The Flying Boxcars are 26 feet high and weigh 20 tons.

There were reports that the explosion of one of them as it hit the ground was heard 50 miles away.

Army helicopters went immediately to the scene, followed quickly by light rescue aircraft from the home base of the transports, Rhine-Main Air Base in Frankfurt. The rescue craft were unable to help.

The transports were from the 60th Troop Carrier Wing and were assigned to train men of the 7th Army in movement by air. The Air Force said there were 41 passengers, 5 crewmen and a loadmaster on one plane; 14 passengers, 4 crewmen and a loadmaster in the second. A loadmaster is a noncommissioned officer responsible for embarkation and debarkation of the troop passengers.

Names of the dead were withheld pending notification of relatives.

Two clergymen, one Roman Catholic and the other Lutheran, came to the site of the crash and knelt praying while those about them sang hymns. French troops guarded the wreckage until relieved by an American unit.

Lt. Robert Whitbeck of Niagara Falls, N. Y., commander in the engineer battalion from which some of the victims came, said:

"It was not a bad death for the men. It happened so quickly. Everybody was killed instantly."

The transport that came down in the forest carried 14 soldiers and a three-quarter ton truck.

Lewis Strauss' Mixup Enjoyed By Newsmen

GENEVA (AP) — Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission got a news conference mixed up with a Senate hearing Thursday.

Opening up the news conference, he said:

"The other day, just as the ings closed . . ."

Interrupted by laughter, Strauss grinned and corrected himself:

"Just as the press conference closed the other day."

He said he nearly addressed a questioning reporter as senator and added:

"'I daresay all that laughter was from American reporters.'"

Chicken Remedy Suit To Be Filed

OMAHA (AP) — Assistant U.S. Attorney Harry W. Shackleford said Thursday he will file suit in Federal court at Lincoln to confiscate 18 cases of a poultry medicine labeled a remedy for cannibalism in chickens.

Shackleford said the products, found at a Lincoln hatchery, were made by Lyle's Products Co., Galesburg, Ill.

He said the government alleges the medicine is ineffective in treating cannibalism.

Shackleford, who took a short course in poultry problems from University of Nebraska experts, said hens have been bred for egg-laying and their reproductive machinery is out of proportion. Chickens running around with their reproductive machinery going faster than everything else tend to kill and eat each other.

He said most damage comes from chickens kept closely confined.

Plane Crash Victim's Wife Asks Damages

A $139,951.36 death damage suit has been filed in Lancaster District Court as the result of an air collision of two planes last Dec. 19 near the Union Airport.

Plaintiff is Mrs. Esther M. Pankhurst of 5941 Glade, widow of one of the two Lincoln men who lost their lives when one plane crashed. The other was Steven Millet.

Named defendants are the Lincoln Aviation Institute, Flight Lines, Inc., the city of Lincoln, and Terry Edwards, pilot of the second plane.

Plaintiff alleges that both planes took off from Union Airport and that the plane flown by Millet, in which Pankhurst was riding, banked to the left and into the landing gear of the Edwards plane, resulting in the crash of the Millet plane.

Pankhurst allegedly was taking flying lessons from Lincoln Aviation and its employee, Millet, while Edwards was a student-pilot of Flight Lines.

Negligence of these parties is alleged in the fatal accident. The suit contends that Lincoln, owner of the airport, was negligent in not exercising safety regulations and control over the planes on take-off.

Edwards was able to land his plane following the collision and was not injured.

TALK of the TOWN

THE LINCOLN STAR FRIDAY, AUGUST 12

Thursday Evening Ceremony

For the marriage of Miss Phyllis Eileen Etmund, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Etmund of Roca, to Harlan A. Kuster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kuster of Hickman, which took place Thursday evening, Aug. 11, spreading arrangements of white gladioli, Majestic daisies and woodwardia, and lighted white candles, appointed the chancel of the Hickman Presbyterian Church. The 8 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. James Lyon, and Mrs. Martin VerMaas, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied the vocal soloist, Mrs. Dale Kuster.

Mrs. Richard Meyer of Lincoln, as her cousin's matron of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Shirley Woolman of Lincoln, and Mrs. Jerry McGinnis of Hickman, were frocked identically in Nile green crystalette. Portrait necklines accented the torso bodices, beneath which the skirts flared into fullness, and their tiny brow veils were held by bandeaux of matching crystallette. They carried bouquets of white and green carnations frilled with white net and satin. Miss Carolyn Kuster, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl, and lighting the candles were Miss Dorothy Estes and Mrs. Norman Williams, the bridegroom's sister.

Serving his brother as best man was Dale Kuster of Omaha, and seating the guests were Norman Williams of Naperville, Ill., Irvin Kuster of Hickman, cousin of the bridegroom; Richard Meyer and Don Etmund, the bride's cousin, both of Lincoln. Roger Meyer was the ringbearer.

The bride's period gown was fashioned of white Chantilly lace over taffeta. Iridescent paillettes and seed pearls traced the floral motif of the lace to frame the rounded decolletage, and the molded bodice was completed by long fitted sleeves. A front panel of minutely-pleated tulle trimmed the full lace skirt, which ended in a slight train, and her veil of illusion was held to the head by a cap of lace and pearls. She carried a white prayer book showered with white carnations, sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

A reception for 300 guests was held in the church parlors. For their wedding trip to Colorado, after which the couple will reside in Hickman, Mrs. Kuster wore a navy linen frock with navy accessories.

MRS. HARLAN A. KUSTER

Attractive Twosome

An attractive guest twosome in Lincoln at the moment are Mrs. Richard Moulton and her young daughter, Julia Ann. Mrs. Moulton and the small debutantalizer arrived on Wednesday from Alexandria, Va., for a visit with Mrs. Moulton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Myron Loomis.

Bride At Chapel Wedding

MRS. CHARLES H. LUEDKE

Mrs. Alice M. Ericson this morning is announcing the marriage of her daughter, Marjorie Ericson Root, to Charles H. Luedke of San Diego, Calif., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Luedke of Spencer. In the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends, the service was solemnized Saturday evening, Aug. 6, by the Rev. Leslie E. Thomas in the chapel of Trinity Methodist Church.

The matron of honor and bride's only attendant was Mrs. Jean Fullbrook Sawyer of San Diego, Calif., and serving his brother as best man was Donovan W. Luedke of Lincoln.

For her wedding, the bride wore a dressmaker ensemble of beige summer wool. The decollete bodice of turquoise and silver brocade was covered by a boxed jacket of the wool, deeply cuffed in matching brocade, and the skirt was designed on pencil slim lines. She completed her costume with a brow-veil of illusion and carried a small beige purse to which was pinned a corsage of brown orchids.

Immediately following the 8 o'clock service, a reception for the members of the family was held at the home of the bride's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Luedke will make their home in San Diego where the bridegroom is attending San Diego State College. The bride is an August graduate of the University of Nebraska, and is a member of Pi Beta Phi.

Plainview Club Names Officers

Mrs. Eugene Kolder was hostess Thursday afternoon to the members of the Plainview Extension Club at her home. During the regular business meeting, the group elected new officers.

President for the coming year will be Mrs. Harlan Wilson, and other officers will be Mrs. Charles Boyer, Jr., vice president; Mrs. Lee Hunt, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. W. L. Thelander, news reporter. Other chairman will be appointed.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent working on scrapbooks for the pupils of LARC School in Lincoln.

The next meeting of the club will be held Sept. 22, when the members will tour Lincoln by chartered bus.

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Steelquist have had as their house guests Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson of Kansas City, and Cmdr. Johnson's brother and sister-in-law, Mr .and Mrs. Edward Johnson of New Haven, Conn. Cmdr. Johnson is the commanding officer at the Naval Reserve Training Center in Kansas City.

The Brides' Book Says:

Miss Roberta Ann Van Allen is announcing the members of her bridal party for her marriage to Ronald E. Henke of Denton, which will be an event of Saturday, Sept. 17. The ceremony will take place at Grace Lutheran Church and will be solemnized at 8 o'clock in the evening.

For her matron of honor, Miss Van Allen has named her sister, Mrs. Dee Pettigrew, and her bridesmaids will be Miss Bernice Van Allen, also a sister of the bride-to-be, and Mrs. Jerry Brady of Denton. Miss Carol Dean Lelie of Malcolm and Miss Jackie Selk will light the candles.

Miss Barbara Brehm, who will become the bride of Hugh Catron on Saturday evening, Sept. 10, has chosen Mrs. Robert Schleiger as her matron of honor. Her bridesmaids will be Miss Janet Kruse, Miss Dorothy Schneider, Miss Sandra Catron, sister of the bridegroom-elect, all of Lincoln, and Miss Sharon Behm of Laurel, Mont.

Lighting the candles will be James Eitel and Carl Eitel.

Jack Betz will serve Mr. Catron as best man, and the ushers will be Wayne Mumford, Jerry Green and Robert Schleiger, all of Lincoln, and Rolland Engelhardt of Hastings.

Also announcing plans for a September wedding is Miss Barbara Crowe, who will become the bride of Don Reeves of Central City on Thursday, Sept. 1.

Miss Crowe, who will return home to Lincoln on Wednesday, Aug. 17, from the Philippine Islands where she has been employed, has revealed that the ceremony will be solemnized at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon at Warren Methodist Church. A graduate of the University of Nebraska, she is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority, Mortar Board honorary for senior women, Phi Upsilon Omicron and Omicron Nu.

Her fiance, who also is employed in the Philippines, is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and a member of Farm House fraternity, Alpha Zeta and Gamma Sigma Delta honoraries.

Fun News Of Guests—Homecomers

OUR GUEST book is all dressed up with nice people from here and there this morning—and in addition to the visitors we have our usual quota of homecomers and travelers—and it's all fun.

A guest threesome arrived in town from New Orleans on Wednesday evening — Mrs. E. Glenn Yetter and her two children, Vicki Jo and Scotty, planed in for a three week visit with Mrs. Yetter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilson. Mr. Yetter will join his family here in about two weeks, and will visit briefly in Lincoln before accompanying Mrs. Yetter and the children home to New Orleans.

* * *

FROM Riverside, Conn., last Monday came Mrs. Frank Grabill and her two children, Linda and Bobby, who are spending a few weeks in Lincoln as the house guests of Mrs. Grabill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Smith.

On Wednesday morning Mrs. Grabill was honored when Mrs. Clarence Emerson and her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Pansing, were coffee hostesses at the home of Mrs. Emerson.

Mrs. Grabill was complimented again on Thursday when Mrs. Arthur Dobson and Mrs. H. W. Potter entertained at a luncheon at the Lincoln Country Club.

* * *

THEN we learned that Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Alden and their two daughters, Meredith and Priscilla, flew in from Chapel Hill, N.C., on Tuesday evening and are guests at the home of Mrs. Alden's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Peterson.

During their stay in Lincoln the Aldens also will vist Mrs. Alden's sister, Mrs. Arthur Perry, who was a coffee hostess at her home Thursday morning in courtesy to Mrs. Alden.

* * *

LEARNED that Mrs. Aaron Levitt and her two children returned to their home in Omaha on Thursday after a 10-day stay in Lincoln as the guests of Mrs. Levitt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Gold.

* * *

AND WE have honest-to-goodness homecomers in the news this morning — Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Wallace and their three children, Carol, Donald and Nancy, who are back in town after being the guests of Uncle Sam at Ft. Leonard Wood. The Wallace family now is in the process of settling in their home at 2644 Ryons.

* * *

HOME from a brief holiday at Lake Okoboji are Mrs. Elsie Grainger Fullerton, Mrs. Carl Weil, and Mrs. B. F. Sheehan who spent a long week-end at the Iowa summer resort.

* * *

ALSO discovered that the Faulkner family — Mr. and Mrs. Clarke and their two children, Clarke and Laurie, are back in town after a week's vacation at C Lazy U Ranch near Grandy, Colo.

* * *

AN extra 'n' dropped out of the nowhere on to the page yesterday and gave a very nice 56th wedding anniversary to a Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Martin, whom we do not know — instead of to Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Marti, whom everyone knows. Anyway when Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Marti entertained at dinner at the University Club last evening it was to honor the anniversary of Mr. Marti's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Marti.

Betrothal Announced

MISS PATRICIA MORRIS

Announcement is made this morning of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Patricia Morris ,daughter of Mrs. Genevieve Morris of Lincoln, and Lloyd Morris of North Platte, to Herbert W. Wurtz, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Wurtz of Clarks.

The wedding is planned for Sunday, Nov. 20.

How to keep nylon white and get old nylon white, too!

Almost every woman has a nylon slip or blouse she doesn't wear because it looks "dingy." As you know, grayed or yellowed nylon is one of today's most vexing laundry problems. Somehow, it just never seems to come clean.

Now, however, there's a product that solves the problem of nylon that's too dingy to wear but too good to throw away. It's not a bleach, not a bluing. It's not something you have to buy extra. It's a family-wash detergent—new Sunshine Surf—with a scientific whitener that gets its power from the ultraviolet rays found in sunlight. It gets everything clean, yet it's safe for the sheerest of fabrics. (It's kind to your hands, too!) And it works whether you dry your clothes indoors or out!

But the real wonder of this new Surf is the way it makes old nylon look bright again! It may not happen the very first time you wash it. (Remember, it took months to get that way.) But after several washes you'll see that dingy nylon getting whiter and whiter. You'll be proud to wear it again.

The plain fact is that no other detergent can get all your wash—nylon-rayon-cotton—as white and clean as new Surf with the ultraviolet whitener. And you've got to agree or we'll return every cent you paid, plus postage. Better put new Surf on your shopping list right now! Lever Brothers, New York 22, New York.

Despite 'Serious Objections'—

PRESIDENT SIGNS HOUSING MEASURE

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Thursday signed the compromise housing bill providing, among other things, for 45,000 public housing units in the next year.

He said, however, he had "serious objections" to some provisions.

Eisenhower said he gave his approval because of "very important and desirable provisions."

He recalled, in noting his objections, that he had recommended to Congress a two-year program of federal aid to local communities for construction of 70,000 new low-rent public housing units.

A combination of Republicans and Southern Democrats defeated Eisenhower's two-year program in the House, and the House voted for no public housing. The Senate voted for 135,000 units a year for four years, and the 45,000-unit, one-year bill was a compromise between the two chambers.

Eisenhower said in Thursday's statement the program he recommended is needed and said it could be carred out by local communities and the federal government in a more orderly and efficient manner over a two-year period.

He said it is also important for the low-rent housing aids to be co-ordinated with slum clearance and urban renewal aids. He said each of these types of aids should be made available by the federal government only to communities which have adopted workable programs for dealing with the problem of slums and urban blight in their own midst.

Cites Objections

He said, "The act fails to make adequate provisions for carrying out these objectives."

The President said he had other objections to the bill and he hoped what he listed as defects will be corrected by Congress at the earliest opportunity "in the light of further study and of actual experience in its administration."

He said he had serious objections to provisions which would create still another independent agency in the executive branch. This would detach the Home Loan Bank Board, including the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp., from the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Eisenhower said the grant of independence for the Home Loan Bank Board "is a backward step" and thrusts an "unnecessary supervisory burden" on the President.

International News Service

The new housing law contains these other key provisions:

1. Adds four billion dollars to the general mortgage insurance authority of the Federal Housing Administration.

2. Extends the FHA's Title I home improvement program for 14 months.

3. Increases the amount of mortgages the FHA can insure on rental properties from $5 million to $12,500,000.

4. Provides an increase of 400 million dollars for slum clearance and urban renewal aids in 1956 and 1957. An additional 100 million dollars for the same programs may be used at the discretion of the President.

5. Creates a new military housing program designed to provide 100,000 urgently needed dwellings for service families. Under the plan, FHA could insure loans totaling $1,363,000,000 on projects awarded by the Pentagon under a system of competitive bidding.

6. Establishes a new 500 million dollar college loan program to aid construction of dormitories as well as cafeterias and other related buildings.

One Slight Injury In Big Smashup

A lot of metal went flying in this two-car accident at 84th and O Street but only one person was injured, Gerald Lambert of 1924 So. 24th, who suffered minor bruises and slight back injury. He was a passenger in the ditched vehicle driven by Donald Kress of the same address. Driver of the car at right was Philip Reider of 1327½ C. Lambert was removed from underneath the car by both drivers. (Star Staff Photo.)

Lambert Escapes Serious Injuries

A 17-year-old youth, Gerald Lambert of 1924 So. 24th, was pinned underneath a car in a two-car collision at 84th and O Thursday night but escaped with bruises and a slight back injury.

He was reported in good condition at Lincoln General Hospital where he was held overnight.

The Safety Patrol said Lambert was a passenger in a car driven by Donald Kress, 19, of 1925 So. 24th, that was turning north from the east.

The driver of the westbound vehicle was Philip Reider, 49, of 1327½ C, a salesman.

Lambert was the only person injured. The Kress car plunged down an eight foot embankment landing on its side. Lambert was pinned under the wheel of the vehicle.

Reider and Kress immediately lifted the car up and dragged the injured youth to safety.

The right side of the Kress vehicle was caved in and the front of the Reider car was smashed.

7 Of 21 Dead In Ohio Blast Unidentified

ANDOVER, Ohio (AP)—Their faces guarded and fearful, people continued to stream through a makeshift morgue in a garage Thursday night to see whether their friends and relatives were among the at least 21 persons killed in a roaring fire and explosion.

At midnight, 14 had been positively identified.

At least 21 persons were injured.

As officials heard more and more queries about missing persons, they feared that two or three more bodies might still be lying undiscovered in the wreckage.

The tragedy struck early Wednesday night during a severe thunderstorm that already had knocked out communications here. Center of the blast was the Gateway restaurant on the village square, where some of the vicitms had taken refuge from the storm.

Young Couple Wed Despite Complications

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP) — Patricia Maupin and Danny B. Garcia got married okay but it took some doing.

Patricia is 19 and under Nebraska law her mother's permission was needed.

When Patricia and Danny, 21, went to County Clerk Evelyn Carlson for a license they learned that her mother's permission was needed. But Patricia's mother, Mrs. S. Tringali was in Naha, Okinawa.

Miss Carlson had Patricia telephone her mother who went before U.S. Consul William W. Blackerly of Naha and signed a statement of approval. Blackerly telephoned Miss Carlson and Miss Carlson issued the license.

Then the Rev. J. R. Whalen got out of a sick bed and performed the ceremony.

Tin Magnate Patino Files Divorce Suit

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Antenor Patino, Bolivian tin magnate, has filed suit for divorce from Maria Cristina de Bourbon—his wife for 24 years—on grounds of abandonment, Judge Alberto Graza said today.

The Patinos made international headlines last year when their daughter, Isabela, 18, eloped with James Goldsmith, son of a British hotel owner, over the objections of the Patinos. Isabela later died in childbirth.

Judge Garza said he has asked authorities in Paris to notify Mrs. Patino of the suit and request her to name an attorney. The petition said Patino is living in Mexico. Mrs. Patino is related to the late Alfonso XIII of Spain.

63 Killed In Algeria's Bloody Battles

PARIS (AP) — While French rulers of North Africa deliberated Thursday on the fate of Morocco and its throne, news came of at least 63 killed in battles between French troops and nationalists in Algeria.

Of the three French regions of North Africa, only Tunisia seemed calm. Wednesday Secretary of State Dulles held up the home rule agreement between France and Tunisia as an example of what could be done elsewhere.

There was no immediate prospect, however, of the Tunisian example being followed in Algeria, which is run as if it were part of France. Nationalist rebels have been battling French police and troops there since Nov. 1.

Heavy reinforcement from Europe and Indochina have brought French strength to 125,000, but some 3,000 rebels still give plenty of trouble. Fighting Wednesday was among the bloodiest so far.

There were three main clashes. The biggest occurred in the oasis of Sidi-Aoun, at the edge of the Sahara 150 miles southeast of Biskra. It began Tuesday morning and the latest casualty report put French losses at 21 soldiers and the rebels' at 20.

KimballCounty Reports Seven New Oil Wells

KIMBALL, Neb (AP)—Seven new producing oil wells were reported in Kimball County this week, bringing the county's total to 342.

This adds 160 to the total reported at this time last year.

All the new wells were field wells. Shell got two more producers in the Travis field north of Dix; Magnoliz petroleum got one in the Swearingen field and another in the Long field.

Gulf Oil Co. got confirmation of a discovery south of Bushnell and Lowell Williamson opened a small producer inside the city of Kimball. The seventh well was a Superior Oil Co. venture in the southeast part of the Long field.

The only dry hole reported was at the Linn No. 1, drilled by Balderson-Denver Drilling Co.

Nine new locations were announced.

Burt County Presses For Road Decision

ONAWA, Ia. (AP)—A controversy over where to locate a road from the Decatur, Neb., "dry land" bridge to U.S. Highway 75 here remains unsolved.

The Onawa City Council is split on whether the road should go around Onawa or through the town.

The Iowa Highway Commission recommends building the extension of Highway 165 on the north line of the town but has held up construction until the Onawa council approved.

Council members said they could not authorize construction because the six members are evenly divided.

Burt County, Neb., bridge commissioners are pressing for an immediate decision so they can sell bonds to finance an approach to the bridge on their side of the Missouri River.

Manager Turned Down

The state liquor control commission has denied approval of John J. Compiano of Omaha as manager of the Town House Restaurant Co., whose application for a liquor license was withheld pending approval of a manager.

Bernard Davis Will Head Fairmont School

FAIRMONT, Neb. — Bernard Davis, who recently resigned as superintendent of schools at Palmyra, will become head of the Fairmont high school. Mrs. Davis will teach in the grade school at Fairmont.

Schools At Orleans Will Begin August 29

ORLEANS, Neb. — Superintendent Allan L. Gray announced that Orleans public schools will open Monday, August 29. The faculty is not as yet complete, he added.

Colorado Crop Damage Is High

BRUSH, Colo (AP) — Crop damage resulting from rain, hail and swollen streams was estimated in excess of a quarter of a million dollars Thursday as the area braced itself against additional threats of high water.

One woman was believed drowned and crews searched for her body.

This community of 4,082 escaped major damage. Crews labored through the night and most of the day building dikes and sandbagging danger spots.

The estimate of damage came from J. Walt Daniels, Brush city clerk. He said the ultimate loss might run as high as $500,000.

Principal loss was to crops and bridges.

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — Summer rains again poured a flash flood into water-weary Albuquerque and battered other sections of the state with lightning, rain and one reported twister.

The Albuquerque police department estimated that 30 to 40 square blocks were under water.

Admiral Gets Life For Peron Revolt

BUENOS AIRES, Argentine (AP) — Rear Adm. Samuel Toranzo Calderon was reported sentenced Thursday to life imprisonment on a charge of masterminding the June 16 revolt.

Informed sources said the Supreme Military Council imposed life terms on Toranzo and six other Argentine naval officers in winding up the secret trial of 56 men accused of plotting the abortive rebellion against President Juan D. Peron in which hundreds died.

By the account of these informants;

Rear Adm. Anibal Olivieri, navy minister at the time, drew a sentence of 18 months in prison.

Terms up to three years were imposed on 29 officers of the navy and air force.

The remaining 19 defendants were acquitted, but probably will be retired.

The life terms carry with them the brand of "public degradation."

The sentences are subject to approval by Peron.

The prosecution had asked the death penalty for Toranzo. It sought a two-year term for Olivieri.

The revolt flared at the height of Peron's open feud with the Roman Catholic Church. Rebels led by navy and air force elements staged air and ground attacks on Casa Rosada, President Peron's Government House on the Mayo Plaza at noon, June 16. The army crushed the revolt in a six-hour battle.

Toranzo, Olivieri and marine Vice Adm. Benjamin Gargiulo were accused as the three leaders of the rebellion. Gargiulo committed suicide a few hours later and many other rebels fled to Uruguay. All of those sentenced were reported in custody.

Peron has called for pacification of the nation, but tension still prevails. Authorities Thursday were investigating two mysterious shooting attacks on the police.

Members of the opposition Radical party marched through the downtown streets of Buenos Aires last night, shouting and demonstrating. Several were arrested.

On the religious front, a congressional committee Wednesday approved a bill permitting Peron to postpone until mid-1956 the election of a constitutional assembly to cut ties between the state and the Catholic church.

Congress last May authorized elections for the assembly before Oct. 23.

Aly Charges Rita Keeping Yasmin From Seeing Him

RENO (INS) — Prince Aly Khan has charged his former wife, Actress Rita Hayworth, with preventing their daughter Yasmin from visiting her father in France.

A petition was filed for the Moslem prince in Nevada District Court at Reno asking that the actress, now the wife of singer Dick Haymes, be compelled to send Yasmin to France for an 11-week visit.

It was charged that Miss Hayworth has prevented such a visit although it was provided for in the couple's divorce agreement.

The petition pointed out that the agreement stipulates that 6-year-old Yasmin must not visit any country which does not recognize the Nevada divorce.

Aly charged that Rita has "withheld assistance" in his efforts to get the divorce recognized in France.

He told the court that he is willing to produce a $100,000 bond to assure Yasmin's return to the United States if she visits him.

Salk Shots Available In Schools This Fall

Morris D. Siegel, chairman of the Lancaster County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, assured parents Thursday that last year's first and second grade children in Lancaster County who have not yet received their second shot of Salk anti-polio vaccine by the time school opens may secure those shots in the public schools this fall. He likewise stated that arrangements will also be made for all children who participated in the 1954 vaccine field trials to get their "booster" shots in the fall school program.

Siegel said he had been backed in making this statement by both the Polio Advisory Committee for the Lancaster County Medical Society and by representatives of the Pediatric Society.

Dr. Paul Bancroft, president of the Nebraska Pediatric Society, was quoted as saying that "The society has already gone on record as approving plans to give the vaccine to school children in Omaha in October and we welcome a similar schedule for Lincoln."

Dr. E. S. Wegner, speaking as a member of the American Academy of Pediatrics stated that he anticipates endorsement by the Academy before the fall vaccination program and concurs in recommending the fall program, Siegel reported.

He said that both Drs. Wegner and Bancroft joined in the statement that "There never has been any question of the safety of the vaccine but the Academy felt it advisable for the vaccine to be given in the fall after the peak of the polio season is passed."

Dr. Brown, speaking for the Lancaster County Medical Polio Advisory Committee, stated that vaccinations will continue for Lancaster County children at the City-County Health Department at 10th & R for those eligible who desire vaccinations before school starts.

"We have been and still are of the firm opinion," Dr. Brown is reported as stating, "that on the basis of the best medical advice available to us from men of nationally recognized leadership in the field, the benefits to be derived from the second, or booster, shot during the summer months fars outweighs any risk. The important consideration is that all eligible children receive the protection offered. If such protection has not been afforded prior to the opening of school, then the shots should surely be provided in a fall program."

What's New in Canning or Freezing?

BY SALLY COWAN

IT MAY surprise you to learn that the familiar, standard glass jar, which has been a home canning favorite for so many years, is equally useful for home freezing. This ought to please almost everyone who plans to do some canning or freezing this season because, for one thing, you will have to buy only one type of container to do your freezing or canning; and, for another, with glass you can be sure you will have dependably good home frozen food whenever you want it.

UNIVERSITY TESTS GLASS IN FREEZING

According to recent tests* at the University of Massachusetts, glass canning jars meet all the essential requirements for a satisfactory package for home and locker frozen foods. In reply to the common belief that glass tends to break easily at low temperatures, the University's Bulletin* states: "Technically speaking, there is no available evidence to the effect that the brittleness of such containers is increased at freezing temperatures".

*Massachusetts Agricultural Experiment Station, Bulletin No. 465, June 1952. Cooperation in this research was given by the Hazel-Atlas Glass Company.

GLASS PROVEN SAFE, EASY, PROTECTIVE

Atlas canning jars used for freezing were found to be moisture-vapor proof, preventing freezer burn and drying. They are leak-proof and air-tight, protecting flavor while preventing the absorption of flavor from other foods. A glass jar does not impart foreign odors or flavors, and it will not absorb grease, oil or water from the food it contains. Unlike other types of containers, glass can be kept clean always, and foods do not adhere to it. Furthermore, the contents of a glass jar are easily identified without labels. Only glass has all of these advantages.

GLASS ECONOMICAL THROUGH RE-USE

Since Atlas Mason jars are durable, they may be used many, many times, as they have been used in home canning for years. And since the same glass jars can be used for either canning or freezing, no large investment in special freezing containers is needed to do both.

ATLAS GIVES FREE DIRECTIONS, RECIPES

The makers of Atlas Jars have prepared a fully illustrated booklet containing complete instructions for home canning and freezing, as well as helpful hints and many special recipes and food preservation ideas. You may obtain a copy by writing to: Hazel-Atlas Glass Company, Dept. D., Wheeling, West Virginia.

GE, CIO Okay Pact; Pay Hike, But No GAW

NEW YORK (AP) — The General Electric Co. and the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers reached agreement Thursday on a five-year contract providing wage increases but not the guaranteed annual wage the union sought.

The union claims to represent 100,000 of GE's 220,000 employes in plants across the country.

James B. Carey, IUE president, hailed the agreement as a "splendid settlement" and said it will provide pay raises of 33 to 34 cents an hour by the end of the fifth year.

No Comment

Carey had no immediate comment on the union's failure to get a guaranteed annual wage provision.

But an associate said the union gained a measure of success along this line by getting company agreement to reopening of the new pact in 1958 on "employment security."

He said these talks will include discussion of "layoffs and what should be done about them."

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

Congress doesn't want more roads. It's having too much fun on the clover leaves.

☆ ☆ ☆

My 1944 scrapstack could use a lane all by itself. It's what they call an orphan. The home factory converted to zippers for ear muffs. The way we get spare parts is to follow another scrapstack and bag what falls off.

Bugs Baer

☆ ☆ ☆

All roads are military from this out. Back in 1939 we went over the Apennines at a time when Mussolini was getting ready to put the buzzer on Haile Selassie of Sideways-Abyssinia. The Muss had built a cat's-cradle system of hardshell roads throughout the hills.

☆ ☆ ☆

Up German-ways the Shickelgruber was doing the same thing. The famous Autobahn was the world's longest airfield. For more than 200 miles it was a landing strip without trees, without telegraph poles, without lampposts and without permanent bridges.

☆ ☆ ☆

Our Army engineers knew that and what it was for. And know that roads are more important than rivers.

☆ ☆ ☆

We know that Congress can see farther ahead than a fellow riding backward on a mine mule. If you don't think so gander the roadside signs that close the roads to everything but military traffic. We don't mean Smith Brothers' billboard diaries.

☆ ☆ ☆

The turnpikes are high speed links stretching from coast to coast. They're as military as triggers.

☆ ☆ ☆

We don't string along with Congress on its road vote. Ruts are worse when they run indoors.

Evers' Three-Run Homer Keeps Tribe Atop League

CLEVELAND (AP)—The first-place Cleveland Indians stayed at the top of the American League race Thursday. Hoot Evers kept them there with a three-run homer which beat his former teammates, the Detroit Tigers, 3-1.

He had some help from another ex-Tiger, Vic Wertz. Trailing in the sixth inning, the Indians got a sweep of the three-game series on a walk by Al Rosen, a double by Wertz and Evers' homer off southpaw Billy Hoeft.

Early Wynn took his 14th victory against 7 losses, and registered his 198th win in the major leagues. The only active pitcher with more victories is Bob Feller with 265.

Evers was a replacement for center fielder Larry Doby, who was hit on the right elbow by a pitched ball last night.

The Tigers scored their only run off Wynn with three straight singles in the third. Harvey Kuenn and Bill Tuttle hit singles to left and then Al Kaline bounced a single off Rosen's glove, Kuenn scoring.

Hoeft nursed the 1-0 lead through the fifth, holding the Indians to three hits over that distance.

With one out in the sixth, Rosen walked and then Vic Wertz hit a line drive double over Tuttle's head in center field. Tuttle misjudged the ball. Evers, up next, smashed a 1-1 pitch for his eighth homer of the year.

Yanks Knock Off Boston, 5-3; Now Half Game Out

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees moved within a half-game of the American League lead Thursday by knocking out rookie Frank Baumann, making his first big league start, on the way to a 5-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Although Ted Williams collected his 2,000th hit with a first-inning single and also added a double in the fifth, the Sox dropped three full games off the pace by losing the odd game of the three-game series.

Bob Turley pitched himself in and out of trouble all afternoon until he finally was replaced by Lefty Tommy Byrne after Billy Klaus doubled to open the ninth.

Byrne retired Williams on an infield out, Jackie Jensen on a sacrifice fly that scored Klaus and ended the game by breezing a third strike past Norm Zauchin.

It was the first series the slumping Yankees had won since they took two out of three from lowly Washington, July 1-3. The victory gave New York an 8-5 edge over the Red Sox.

Boston loaded the bases with one out in the first and failed to score. Again in the seventh, after one run was in, the Sox had the bases full with two out but Turley escaped.

The Yanks ruined Manager Pinky Higgins' gamble with the 22-year-old lefty by chasing him in the second inning when they took a 4-0 lead. Hank Bauer's single and walks to Phil Rizzuto and Mickey Mantle filled them up in the first. Bill Skowron's sacrifice fly knocked in Bauer and Rizzuto raced home on a wild pitch.

After Elston Howard and Andy Carey put together successive triples in the second, Baumann was replaced by Ike Delock. Carey scored on Yogi Berra's two-out single. The fifth run came off Delock in the fifth when Mantle walked, stole second and came in on Skowron's single.

Boston, which left 11 men on the bases, finally broke through Turley's defense in the fifth when Klaus singled, took third on Williams' double and scored on Zauchin's sacrifice fly.

White Sox Whip A's

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The second-place Chicago White Sox, paced by Jim Rivera who drove in five runs with two triples and a double, broke out of a batting slump with 16 hits Thursday and a 14-1 victory over Kansas City.

The White Sox, who were knocked out of first place in the tight American League race by the Athletics last night, remain two percentage points behind the Cleveland Indians who defeated Detroit Thursday.

Rizzuto Rolls Out Of Crash

Yankee shortstop Phil Rizzuto (10) rolls out of a three-way collision in the first inning of Thursday's Boston-New York game at Yankee Stadium. Rizzuto grabbed Red Sox Grady Hatton's fly near the foul line in short left field when third baseman Andy Carey and left fielder Elston Howard (32) both piled into him. All went down but Phil held the ball. The Yankees beat the Red Sox 5-3. (AP Wirephoto.)

Young Matt Taber Tries Medalist Chadwell Next

By BILL FITZGERALD

Can a youngster stop Gene Chadwell?

Hillcrest Country Club buzzed with the question late Thursday afternoon when veteran Chadwell and 18-year-old Matt Taber walked in with second-round victories in the men's city tournament and learned they will swing against each other in the quarterfinals today.

Chadwell, sharper than anyone on the course through qualifying play and through his first round match, Thursday knocked over Tom Harrison, 6-5. He was even par for the 13 holes.

Young Taber, a sophomore at the University of Nebraska, eliminated Dick Thoene, 5-4. The redheaded collegian blew a three-hole lead on the first nine but wrapped up the triumph with four wins on the first five holes of the home stretch.

Taber was out in 38, back in one-under.

Sentimental favorites Emil Frank and Hal Bowers kept rolling along the hills and today meet two of the younger players of the tourney.

Frank, the clothing salesman with the steady game, was one under par for 18, but so was his foe, Sam Spomer. The two battled to the 19th green where a par gave Frank the triumph.

Spomer, rolling in those putts accurately, had tied the match on the 17th green with a 20-footer. Spomer bogied the deciding hole.

Bowers went to extra holes for the second straight day. He upset Lee Chapin on the 20th. Chapin was medalist runner-up to Chadwell and was rated well in the lower bracket.

Druggist Bowers meets Dick Lauer, another collegian, in the quarters. Lauer took out Bill Sieck by 4-3 to reach the quarters for the first time.

Frank meets Stan Stroh, the 1954 runner-up who crushed Dr. Tom Dworak, 5-4. Stroh played his sharpest golf of the week.

Young Mike McQuistion's tourney bid ended when Dick Spomer worked a 2-1 victory. Spomer was out in 37, one stroke over par, while McCuistion had a 38.

Spomer meets Dale Wisley, a 2-1 winner over Harry Meginnis. Wisbey came on strongly for a 2-up lead on the first nine. He was one one under with 35.

Wisbey came back in par 36 for a 71, one of the best games of the day.

$1,500 Inaugural 'Cap Is Won By Indian Sign

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member

C. H. Vore's Indian Sign withstood challenges by Unceasing and Reno John to win the $1,500 State Fairgrounds Inaugural Handicap Thursday at the Fairgrounds.

Indian Sign, third choice in the betting, was a length winner over Unceasing and paid $9.60.

He was ridden by William Drennen and was Drennen's second winner on opening day.

Gypsy Dan dashed to his third straight victory in Thursday's subfeature fourth race a five-furlong dash for 3-year-olds. Ridden by Wayne Chambers, the J. N. Kirby horse won by 2½ lengths over Miss Highberry in a stout stretch drive.

The victory was Gypsy Dan's fifth in seven starts since leaving Ak-Sar-Ben in Omaha.

Vohenjr, a crowd favorite, won the first race and coupled with La Day Light in the second for an $80 opening-day daily double.

A large crowd set a first-day betting mark of $154,185, bettering by almost $20,000 the previous first-day record and exceeding last year's opening day handle by almost $30,000.

Although the track was officially listed as "fast," the strip was much slower than it has been in recent years. The dirt has been loosened during the past week.

Friday's running will feature three races for purses of $1,000 headed by a 6½-furlong allowance test for three-year-olds.

Former Husker End Succeeds Bob Faris

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

A former University of Nebraska end is returning to his alma mater as freshman football coach.

Coach Bill Glassford announced Thursday that Edwin H. (Ed) Nyden Jr., will succeed Bob Faris as the Cornhusker frosh coach.

Faris resigned last week to become graduate manager of athletics at George Washington University, Washington, D. C.

Last year he coached at Pasadena, Calif., High School, but in 1953 his Pasadena City College eleven won the national JC championship.

Born Sept. 21, 1920 in Lincoln, Nyden graduated from College View High School here before enrolling at NU. He played end for the Huskers in 1941 and 1942 before entering the U.S. Marine Corps as a lieutenant for the duration of World War II.

Nyden returned to Nebraska and played for Bernie Masterson's 1946 and 1947 teams. He received his degree in 1948 and did graduate work at the University of Southern California.

The new frosh mentor is married to the former Phyllis Ray of Grand Island, a 1948 graduate, and the couple has two children, Phyllis Annette, 10, and Michael Ray, 3.

1950—Citrus Junior College at Azusa, Calif., (8-1). Won first conference championship in school's history.

1951—Citrus JC, 5-3.

1952—Citrus JC, 6-4.

1953—Pasadena City College, 11-0. Won national junior college championship.

Nyden will assume his new position as soon as possible, Glassford said. Nebraska's football practice begins Sept. 1, with the frosh reporting at the start of school, Sept. 19.

Twin Loss Is Handed To Chiefs

DES MOINES (AP)—Gene Fodge stopped Lincoln on two hits 3-0, for his seventh consecutive victory Thursday night and the Bruins swept the doubleheader, 2-1.

A single by Joe Pearson in the fourth inning turned out to be the winning drive in the second game.

He batted in Ray Bellino, who had walked and reached second on a sacrifice by Al Lary, the winning pitcher.

Vern Morgan, after fouling off nine pitches, lashed a double that was barely fair down the first base line to bring in Des Moines' first run in the first inning.

Burdy Thurlby scored after drawing a walk off Dick Drilling.

Lary, making his first start for the Bruins, had a three-hit shutout for six innings. Warren Goodrich's double and Harry Dunlop's single scored for the Chiefs with two out in the seventh.

The shutout was the fourth for Fodge, who had a no-hitter until pinch hitter Marcos Cobos looped a single to right-center with one out in the sixth inning.

A double by Jack Falls in the seventh was the other Lincoln hit.

The Chiefs filled the bases on an error and a walk, but Fodge fanned Nick Koback for his only strikeout to end the game.

Tonight Lincoln manager Bill Burwell will start George Witt (2-4) while Des Moines will rely on Paul Menking (

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals handcuffed the Milwaukee Braves in a doubleheader Thursday, winning the opener 7-1, and the nightcap, 4-0.

Willard Schmidt, 26-year old righthander, allowed the Braves but one hit in the second game. Harvey Haddix won the first game.

Schmidt, a 6-1, 187-pound product of Hays, Kan., held the Braves hitless through first six innings. Then, to the groans of a Ladies' Day crowd of 34,015, shortstop Johnny Logan, first man up in the seventh, rifled a clean single to center field. A moment later, Schmidt got Eddie Mathews to hit into a double play.

Haddix went the distance in the opener to record his ninth victory. Five Milwaukee errors eased his job considerably.

Chataway Makes Forecast:

New Mile Mark Seen In Next 24 Hours

By JOHN FARROW

LONDON (AP) — Four-minute miler Chris Chataway predicted Thursday that within 24 hours there would be a new world record for the mile.

Chataway, Britain's 3-mile world record holder; triple world record holder Sandor Iharos of Hungary; Laszlo Tabori, Hungary's 3:59 miler, and Ken Wood of Britain, meet at London's White City Stadium today in the "Battle of the 4-Minute Milers."

A crowd of 40,000 is expected, all eager to see Australian John Landy's world mark of 3:58 shattered.

"I expect a fast time," Chataway said. "I shall not be surprised if the world mark is broken." Then he nominated Iharos as the likely record breaker.

"I am under no illusions. It will be a hard race. I shall have to hang on and try not to let Iharos run away," the red-haired brewer said. Chataway, who boasts a time of 3:59.8, is famous for his finishing kick. He revels in a tough competitive race.

The mile is the highlight event at the two-day Britain-Hungary track and field meet which starts today. Iharos and Tabori had a light workout Thursday.

Sharos, 25-year-old Army officer, has three world marks to his credit—the 2 miles, 3,000 meters and the 1,500 meters. He did 3:40.8 for the 11,500 meters (1,640 yards) in Helsinki July 28. Observers said he finished fresh and thought he could have set a mile mark if he had gone on the 120 extra yards.

Tabori was in the famous race at London's White City Stadium May 28 in which Chataway, Britain's Brian Hewson and he all finished under four minutes. Tabori won in 3:59. Chataway and Hewson tied at 3:59.8.

Wood's best time in the mile is 4:01.6.

Sioux City's WL Franchise 'In Jeopardy'

SIOUX CITY, Ia. (AP) — Professional baseball in Sioux City is "on trial" in the waning weeks of the 1955 season and the city's nine-year membership in the Western League is in jeopardy.

Sioux City Soos club officials made it plain Thursday that the string is running out on Western League membership unless the fans prove by their support in the next three and one-half weeks that they want baseball to continue.

Low attendance and financial losses during the last three seasons have put the club behind the eight-ball. Thursday, Soos President Adam Pratt laid the facts on the line for the public.

Pratt, speaking in behalf of the stockholders, said that the goal is to match last year's attendance of 69,333 although even if that total is achieved the corporation still will lose money. To date the attendance is 42,383.

There are 16 homes dates remaining. To meet the goal, the attendance will have to average 1,808 customers per date.

"This may be the last season for the Soos, and the reason is lack of support through attendance," Pratt said.

"If we reach last year's total, it may be possible to continue in baseball another year," he added.

The club president revealed that the Soos' owners have received an offer from another city for the Class A franchise. "However," he said "the Soos' owners want to exhaust every means of keeping baseball here before considering acceptance of such an offer."

Tryout Camp Set For Aug. 22-24

A tryout camp for all players between 17 and 23 years of age will be conducted by the St. Louis Cardinals at Municipal Stadium in Omaha, Aug. 22, 23 and 24.

Cardinal Scouts "Runt" Marr and Grank Crespi will get workouts under way each day at 10 a.m. Players who desire to attend need bring only a glove, baseball shoes and a uniform, if they have one.

Pro-Coached Collegians 2-Touchdown Underdog

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—The Cleveland Browns, testing their muscles without Otto Graham, and the College All-Stars, trying a new coaching system, collide in the 22nd All-Star football game before 75,000 at Soldier Field tonight.

The midsummer grid spectacle will be televised nationally beginning at 7:30 p.m. (CST) via ABC. It will be broadcast on Mutual.

The National Football League champion Browns will be unveiling George Ratterman as the retired Graham's successor at quarterback.

Although Graham and the success of Coach Paul Brown were as one throughout a tremendous reign of the Browns, Otto's departure hasn't affected the pro championship team's favoritism—by two touchdowns—over the collegians.

As for the All-Star coaching experiment, the collegians will be directed against the Browns by an all-pro staff. The late Arch Ward, founder of the game, reasoned after the All-Stars' 31-6 thumping last year by the Detroit Lions, that it takes a pro coach to beat a pro coach, given fairly equal talent.

Curly Lambeau, who cut his baby football teeth with the Green Bay Packers, was given the head coaching assignment. Lambeau surrounded himself with such other "old pros" as Hunk Anderson, Stout Steve Owen and Hamp Pool, who made excellent marks in the NFL.

What happens to the pro coaching setup if the All-Stars take another drubbing—which would mark an unprecedented fifth straight loss to the pros—is anybody's guess.

Spangler Sparks Air Force Squad

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP)—The U.S. Air Force virtually wrapped up the Inter-Service Golf Championship Thursday as it pulled away to a 29-stroke lead over the Army, Marines and Navy, in that order.

The Air Force team continued to display too much depth for its three rivals. Lt. Ray Terry of Jacksonville, Fla., and Lt. Richard Spangler of Lincoln, Neb., set the pace Thursday with one-over-par 72s, while Lt. William T. Morrow of Shreveport, La., shot a 73 and Lt. Miller Barber of Texarkana, Tex., came through with a 74.

Midget Title Won By Muny

Ron Martin, the boy who stopped Northeast Wednesday on three hits, Thursday pitched a one-hitter against the same Team as Muny won the City League Class A baseball championship on a 4-0 victory.

Ron Martin

Catcher Bill Bliss smacked two doubles and a single—the only hits Muny got off Jan Wall, the Northeast ace.

Going into Thursday's game the two teams—each a division champion—were tied in the best-of-three series.

Muny broke up a scoreless tie in the fourth when Bliss cracked a double which scored Lou Creps who lived on an error. A walk and three infield outs brought in two more runs.

Bliss doubled in the last run in the fifth.

Gene Smith got the only hit off Martin, a double in the fifth.

Reds Edge Cubs, 6-5 In Eleventh

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago shortstop Ernie Banks hit his 39th home run Thursday to tie for the major league home run lead, but the effort was wasted as the Cubs were defeated by Cincinnati, 6-5 in 11 innings.

Banks' blow in the sixth inning off Joe Black also tied the modern major league home run record for shortstops. Vern Stephens, now in the Pacific Coast League with Seattle, hit 39 home runs in 1949 as a shortstop with the Red Sox.

The Redlegs won the third straight over the Cubs with an unearned run in the 11th. Johnny Temple singled and scored after Jim King dropped Wally Post's fly.

Temple singled and stole second with one out. Ted Kluszewski was purposely passed with two out, and then Post followed with his liner that King muffed.

This run gave Johnny Klippstein, who lost the series opener, his fourth win of the year. Hal Jeffcoat of the Cubs, suffered his sixth setback.

The Cubs fashioned a 5-5 tie in the ninth when Hank Sauer, a pinch batter, survived on Roy McMillan's two-base throwing error. Jimmy Bolger, running for Sauer, took third on Dee Fondy's fly for the second out, and scored on a wild pitch by Buster Freeman.

Cincinnati took a 5-0 lead with four runs in the fourth to chase starter Harry Perkowski, and added another in the fifth off Dave Hillman.

'Money Scramble' Under Way

Krak, Littler 6-Under-Par In 'World'

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Mike Krak, a wiry 27-year-old newcomer to golf's tourney trail, and seasoned Gene Littler each smashed six-under-par 66's Thursday in the first round of the "World" money scramble at Tam O'Shanter Country Club.

The smooth-swinging Krak, son of a Weirton, W. Va., steelworker, ripped par 36-36 on the jammed 6,900-yard course with 32-34 while Littler, the fourth leading PGA money winner from Palm Springs, Calif., coupled 33's.

Littler decorated his card with an eagle 3 on the 495-yard second hole by holing out a 90-foot chip shot from a road behind the green. His only over-par was a 4 on the 215 - yard 16th, where he three-putted from the edge. Littler birdied the last two holes with 2 and 4-foot putts.

One Over-Par Hole

Krak, who was brought to this country from Czechoslovakia at the age of one month, carded his only over-par also on the 16th when his tee shot was trapped. But he compensated with a birdie 3 on the next by sticking an 8-iron 5 inches from the pin. An 8-foot putt failed to drop on the 18th and he settled for par 4.

Krak's best finish in a year of tournament campaigning was 10th in the Kansas City Open. He aced the 230-yard 18th there for the only hole-in-one of his career.

Krak, who finished about 50th in the "World" to collect $208 last year, missed qualifying in the recent British Open when a lost ball cost him a two-stroke penalty, the margin it would have taken to get in.

$156,000 Potential Payoff

While Krak and Littler breezed in with their sub-par rounds which were only three strokes off the competitive course record, other pros also were on the money scent leading to a winning payoff potential of $156,000 at the 72-hole conclusion Sunday.

Fred Hawkins, broad-shouldered 31-year-old veteran from St. Andrews, Ill., by way of El Paso, Tex., rounded out 33-34—67 with the help of a 30-foot eagle 3 putt on the second hole.

Paul O'Leary of Bismarck, N. D., who has won only $580 in his last six tournaments, sizzled with a 33, then matched par 36 coming back for 69.

Par-Busting Jamboree

The group of 70 shooters in the par - busting jamboree included Dutch Harrison, Frank Stranahan, Paul Harney, Julius Boros and Bob Harris.

Doug Ford, the National PGA and All-American winner, skidded to a 73 after three-putting three greens. Cary Middlecoff, leading PGA money winner, went for a 74 and complained of a painful kink in his back. Veteran Jimmy Demaret rolled in with a steady 71.

The hottest threesome of the day was made up of National Open champion Jack Fleck of Davenport, Iowa, Antonio Cerda of Buenos Aires and Bo Wininger, Oklahoma City.

Wininger birdied the last three holes with putts of 40, 1½ and 10 feet for 34-33—67. Fleck had a steady 35-34—69. Cerda gained the lead of the foreign delegation with 33-35—68.

Cerda wasted a stroke in the pine trees on the 18th and eventually had to chip dead to salvage a bogey 5

Broadcast Set For Title Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—The Rocky Marciano-Archie Moore heavyweight title fight at Yankee Stadium Sept. 20 will be broadcast over 350 stations by the ABC radio network. The broadcast also will be handled by stations in Alaska, Hawaii, Guam, Puerto Rico, and Cuba, and by the Armed Forces radio network.

Announcement was made Thursday by Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, and ABC, when the rights were sold to a sponsor.

The broadcast will start at 8:30 p.m. (CST). There will be no telecast into the homes. The bout will be telecast over a closed circuit to theaters coast to coast.

Norris also announced that for the first time since the second Joe Louis-Billy Conn title fight at the Stadium, June 19, 1946, there will be a raised ringside section for an outdoor bout here. Ringside seats cost $100 each for that one. The fight grossed $1,925,564.

This is being done, Norris said, because of the heavy demand for the $40 ringside seats. The promoter expects to draw from $750,000 to one million dollars.

The only two players in the history of the Pittsburgh Pirates to have won the National League's Most Valuable Player award were Paul Waner in 1927 and Arky Vaughn in 1935.

Just Short Of $2 Million Wagered At Columbus Races

COLUMBUS (AP)—The wagering total for the 15-day racing season closing here Tuesday fell just short of two million dollars, track officials reported.

The total was $1,984,917, an average of about $132,332 per day.

Were it not for heavy rains the last three days of the meeting officials felt that total would have topped two million dollars for the second year in a row. The 1954 mutuel handle was $2,037,507.

High temperatures for the first 11 days of the meet also were credited with holding down the meet.

A new one-day betting mark of $200,619 was established Aug. 6 on a nine-race card. The previous mark was $193,362 bet on an eight-race card in 1954.

About 90 per cent of the money wagered is returned to the public. The proceeds after expenses are used by the Platte County Agricultural Society for awards at the county fair, a continuing program of improvements at the park and other projects.

Oldest Ex-Dodger Will Be Honored

BROOKLYN (AP) — John Herman Doscher Jr., 75, believed to be the oldest living ex-Brooklyn Dodgers, will throw out the first ball Saturday when the club honors the stars of yesteryear. Doscher now lives at Ridgefield Park. N J.

He was a left-handed pitcher with the team from 1903 to 1906 but won his only game in 1905. He lost seven during that period. His father was in the majors off and on from 1872 to 1882, starting with the Brooklyn Atlantics and finishing his career with Cleveland. The father later became an umpire but was most widely known for having helped write the rules of baseball.

Accord May Be Near On Release Of 41 Yanks

GENEVA (AP)—The United States and Red China called a 24-hour recess in their "Little Geneva Conference" Thursday amid Communist hints an accord was near on the release of 41 American civilians from China.

A Communist informant close to the Chinese negotiators said only details still have to be ironed out. He intimated an agreement could be reached at the next session Saturday.

There was no official support for this view from either side. Both U.S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan maintained the secrecy they clamped on their talks at the start 10 days ago.

They emerged from their fifth closed session to announce only that they confined discussions to repatriation of civilians and that they would meet again Saturday morning.

The talks have been snagged on counter demands advanced by the Reds as the price for the release of the Americans, mostly missionaries and businessmen who are imprisoned or have been refused permission to leave Red China.

25 Under Arrest

Current State Department files list 25 under arrest, 3 under house arrest, 13 unable to gain exit.

Wang has asked for a list of Chinese Nationals living in the United States and proposed that India serve as a third party to screen them and determine whether they wish to return to their Red-run homeland.

Johnson has resisted these demands while seeking to work out a compromise formula.

Recognize Jurisdiction

The United States contends that to accept a third power would, in effect, recognize Peiping's claim to jurisdiction over all 117,000 Chinese in the United States and repudiate the claim of Nationalist China.

American negotiators entered the talks Aug. 1 with the belief the Red Chinese were seeking "release" of Chinese students who went to the United States since World War II. These total between 4,000 and 5,000.

Only 124 Barred

The State Department has said that only 124 were ever barred from leaving the United States. These were notified during the Korean War they could not leave because of technical skills acquired in the United States which might have been used by the enemy. Of these, the State Department said, only 76 asked to return to Red China, 35 have already gone and the rest are now free to leave.

Once a settlement is reached in the repatriation dispute, the negotiators here will broaden their talks to the one remaining point. This will be a discussion of "other practical matters at issue between the two sides."

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

For several weeks I lived a slothful, unproductive life in the Carmel Valley of California. I ate wild pig at the old Moore ranch. I had the best salad of the season at the valley home of Mr. Martin Flavin, author and bon vivant.

I did hardly a lick of work and was dragged briefly to my typewriter screaming and at pistol point. I swam three or four times a day and spet the evening in the tap room, singing and bragging.

I was ashamed of myself.

Oh, boy, was it wonderful!

☆ ☆ ☆

I should report that I could live it up like this all the time if I wanted to. I do not have to work. Just do it to keep busy. I have a wealthy daughter.

My daughter is aged 12 and baby sits at high prices. Twenty-five cents an hour. She loves her work and would do it for nothing if I would let her. I will not let her, though. I am figuring on the future.

She is making money hand over fist in this resort area. It is extremely gratifying to me. For I have been putting baby sitters through school for the past 12 years and I am glad to see the situation reversed.

My former baby sitters now have babies. My daughter sits with their babies and I charge them. Boy, how I charge them, the monsters! When they had me over a barrel, they charged me plenty. I intend to bankrupt them.

☆ ☆ ☆

I do not have to work. I am an assistant baby sitter. My child is new in the racket.

"Daddy, the little boy is eating the dog food!"

"Well, take it away from him, for heaven's sake," I say reasonably. "That dog food is for the dog and costs a great deal. At these sitting prices, we cannot afford to let children eat dog food.

"If their parents wish them fed dog food, we must charge extra. Give the kid some dry kibble."

That is the way we handle our sitting problems.

We give excellent service. We do not allow the children to play with loaded guns or shoot dice or smoke cigarettes. That would cost extra. We try to keep costs down.

Once in a while I saunter out in the yard and cuff all hands. To show there is nothing personal, I give the 12-year-old a couple of bats too.

There is a good deal of thought goes into our baby sitting.

I do most of the thinking. I sit and think. What has a 12-year-old got to think about? She does the easy work like fishing the children out of the swimming pool. I do the thinking and give instructions.

"Get him out before he goes down for the third time."

☆ ☆ ☆

My child is ungrateful and I am trying to straighten her out. She does not wish to share the wealth.

"You mean to say you will not lend your poor old father a dollar? After all the work I put in?"

"You just sat there. Sat there and drank your old beer."

"I did not! I sat and thought up labor-saving devices. Also I am your agent and should get 10 per cent just for being an agent. My work is extra. How about 75 cents?"

"No!"

"How sharper than a serpent's tooth is an ungrateful child," I said sadly. "The best years of my life have gone into casing baby sitters and their nasty, greedy ways.

"Now that I am teaching you how to exercise these horrid practices, you refuse to share your wicked gains."

"I'm saving up for a portable radio. You have lots more money than me. I think you're mean."

"Fifty cents," I said. "For a glass of nut brown ale for your aging parent. To take the chill off the bones. A moment's rest from a lifetime of care."

"No."

"Take care, my dear," I said. "For I shall not be with you always. In fact, I feel quite weak at the moment and need stimulants. How will you feel when I have passed to my reward. Will you say 'Dear old daddy. I refused him his last request.'"

I finally wheedled a quarter out of her. Beer for the troops. Hey, ho.

There's a really white wash...the kind you get with CLOROX!

CLOROX® makes linens more than white... it makes them sanitary, too!

You're proud the neighbors know the wash is yours when it's Clorox-clean. For Clorox removes dinginess, stains...even scorch and mildew. And there's protection as well as pride in a Clorox-clean wash. For no other home laundering product equals Clorox in germ-killing efficiency!

The easiest way to avoid a musty-smelling wash is to launder with Clorox. For Clorox deodorizes ...leaves linens daisy-fresh whether dried indoors or out. And Clorox is free from caustic, a linen-conserving feature patented by Clorox. In addition, Clorox, a liquid, contains no gritty particles to damage wash, washer or dryer.

Busy housewives call on CLOROX to make bathrooms "company clean"

What a difference when you use Clorox in your cleaning routine! It not only removes stubborn stains and disagreeable odors, it disinfects ...provides added health protection as well as sparkle and freshness. Hundreds of public health departments recommend the Clorox type of disinfection. See label for more health-protecting uses and directions.

You get all these benefits in a Clorox-clean wash!

1. Snowy-white linens... Clorox removes gray and yellow dinginess.
2. Bright fast colors... Clorox removes dulling film.
3. Lovely-looking linens...Clorox removes ugly stains, even scorch and mildew.
4. Fresh, clean-smelling linens... Clorox deodorizes.
5. Sanitary linens...Clorox is the most efficient germ-killer of its kind.

U.S. Trying To Harness H-Bomb For Peace Uses

GENEVA (AP) — Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, disclosed Thursday the United States has been working "for a considerable time" on ways to harness the energy of the hydrogen bomb for peaceful uses.

"Progress is being made from a scientific point of view, but there has been nothing in the way of a breakthrough which would indicate anything but a long-range task," he told a news conference.

Britain, Russ Too

The Strauss statement followed a similar announcement by Britain and by Russia earlier this summer that they were trying to solve the riddle of controlling H-bomb type energy, called fusion energy.

Strauss described the size of the U.S. effort as moderate when asked how it compared with the rest of the AEC's program. He said the problem was unprecedented in difficulty, but that scientifically it did not appear impossible.

"It is a matter for the future," he said.

He declined to speculate on how long it might be before results could be expected. A British scientist said the problem probably would be solved in a generation. And Indian scientist Homi J. Bhabha, president of the current atoms-for-peace conference here, has estimated it will happen in 20 years.

The Russians let out word of their experiments June 27. Speaking over the Moscow radio that day, Alexander Buyanov announced:

"Soviet scientists are seeking ways of utilizing the energy of heavy hydrogen and some other elements, not only in the form of an explosion, but in other, more convenient forms. This is a source of power that will enable people to work wonders. They will be able to establish interplanetary communication."

Strauss said he has no information as to whether Russia or Britain have made any progress on the problem. He stressed that, as far as the United States was concerned, this is only one of many projects.

"I regard this program as of such long range," he said, "that it should not interfere with the work that is being done on nuclear reactors and fuel."

In this connection Strauss expressed belief the world's supply of uranium and thorium will be ample to meet all needs for a long time.

"The rate of discovery," he said, "would indicate there is a great deal more uranium than was believed a few years ago."

On other matters, Strauss said:

The time is close when the United States may begin selling power-grade uranium and plutonium to other countries.

The United States will not sell nuclear fuel to the Iron Curtain countries because this is considered as a strategic material and its sale is forbidden by law.

He hoped the atoms-for-peace conference will be followed by other similar conferences on the peaceful uses of atomic energy.

The scientists of 72 nations, continued in a series of panel discussions to explore all phases of the atoms-for-peace field from the most techincal problems of nuclear fission to practical methods of prospecting for uranium.

In one meeting, Russian and United States scientists lifted the curtain on previously secret scientific findings on the fission process. It was the first time that either country had ever disclosed exact fission measurements, such as the direction and speed of neutraons during fission.

The session was described by experts as contributing "a great deal to the understanding of the fission process." The scientists found that the Russians and the United States had arrived at exactly the same measurements.

Court Change Okayed By Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has signed a bill limiting regular sessions of federal court in Nebraska to Omaha, Lincoln and North Platte.

Court now is also held in Norfolk, Grand Island, McCook, Chadron and Hastings.

The law also makes the entire state on judicial division instead of one district with eight divisions.

U.S. District Attorney Donald Ross of Omaha recommended the changes on the grounds of economy and efficiency.

The law becomes effective Jan. 1.

DOG TRAINED AS A 'COURIER' FOR DOPE RING

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—A dog trained as a "courier" for a dope ring was held Thursday in the San Francisco pound.

"Butch," a Doberman, his master, Quincy Cannon, 48, and seven other men were seized in a raid by state and police narcotics agents.

State Inspector Louis Noel said the dog had been trained to meet addicts at a street corner, take $5 or $10 bills with which he would lope to his master's apartment and return with cellophane-wrapp bundles of heroin.

Noel said agents had observed the dog's "courier" work for several days before the raid.

Two under cover agents trailed "Butch" to Cannon's apartment, made a purchase of dope and then waited in the apartment and arrested six more men.

An agent for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals took the dog to the pound.

Cannon, held at the city prison, expressed appreciation that the dog was being given good care, but refused to discuss his training.

How to be a Better Cook ...and save money too! BY Mary Blake Home Service Director Carnation Company

Here's a New "FLAVOR TRICK" with Soup —as advertised in LIFE

More than half of all American families have canned soup at least twice a week . . . and it's equally popular for lunch or dinner!
Tomato, chicken, chicken noodle and vegetable lead the popularity list. But don't forget that there are more than 20 wonderful flavors for you to choose from.
Here's the flavor trick with soup . . . it's one that has my Homemaker's Test Panel cheering.
With 1 can of your favorite canned soup (such as tomato, chicken, green pea, or vegetable) use 2/3 cup of undiluted Carnation and 1/3 cup water. For an even richer, creamier soup, use an equal amount of undiluted Carnation for each can of soup.
Crisp crackers, whole wheat wafers, or toasted buns are so delicious with hot soup. Look for them on your grocer's shelf!

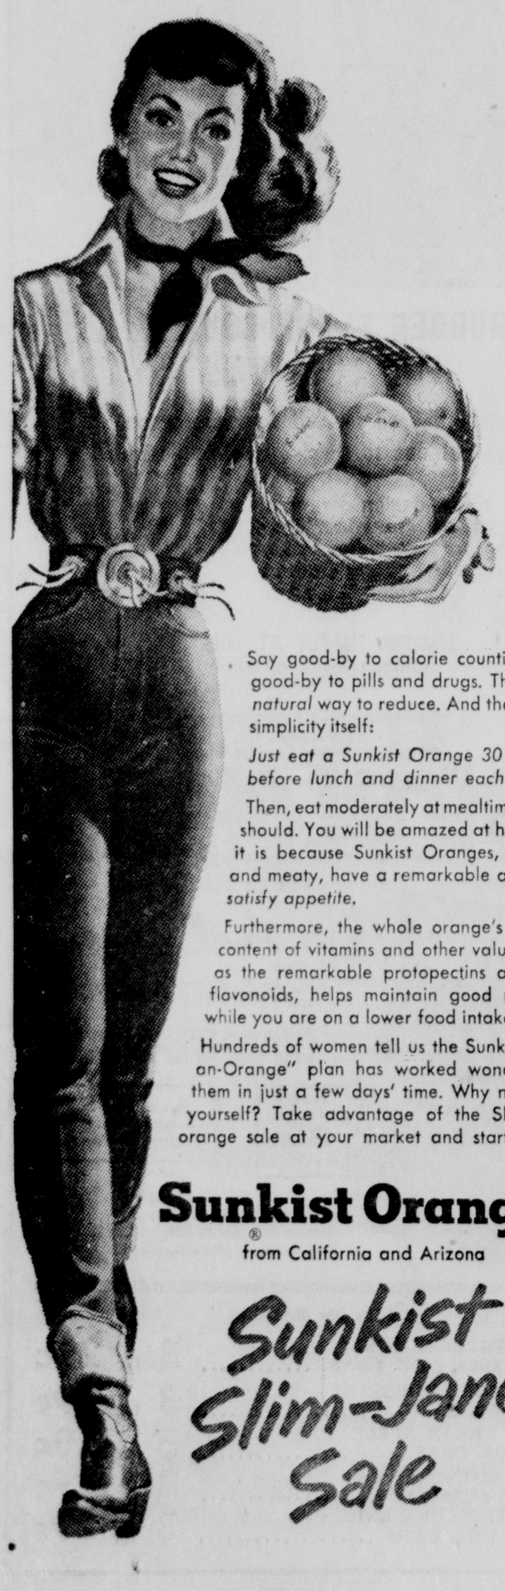
REDUCE this easy natural way

Acquire and keep an attractive figure with the new and healthful "Eat-an-Orange" plan.



Say good-by to calorie counting. Say good-by to pills and drugs. This is the natural way to reduce. And the plan is simplicity itself:

Just eat a Sunkist Orange 30 minutes before lunch and dinner each day!

Then, eat moderately at mealtime as you should. You will be amazed at how easy it is because Sunkist Oranges, luscious and meaty, have a remarkable ability to satisfy appetite.

Furthermore, the whole orange's natural content of vitamins and other values, such as the remarkable protopectins and bioflavonoids, helps maintain good nutrition while you are on a lower food intake.

Hundreds of women tell us the Sunkist "Eat-an-Orange" plan has worked wonders for them in just a few days' time. Why not try it yourself? Take advantage of the Slim-Jane orange sale at your market and start today.

New Religious Mood In Washington Is Apparent

. . . Lay Church Leaders Hold High Posts

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK (AP)—You hear a lot of talk today about a heightened spiritual tone in the nation's capital.

It's there, all right, in various forms.

Some critics have belittled it as political dressing — as "Piety on the Potomac." But many others, sensing a new religious mood in official Washington, have called it a blessing.

Whatever the implications, the atmosphere of reverence has become more common ever since the Bible-reared man from Abilene moved into the White House and in his first words as President said:

"I ask that you bow your heads."

Plea For Prayers

He again pleaded for prayers of his countrymen when he headed for the recent Big Four conference, and almost his first stop in Geneva was at a church.

Senate and House groups meet regularly for scripture readings, inspirational talks and prayer. A meditation room has been set up off the Capitol rotunda. Cabinet meetings generally open on a prayerful note.

On a Sunday morning, you'll find many government officials in church. President Eisenhower almost always is in his pew, about eight rows from the front of the National Presbyterian church, joining heartily in the hymn-singing.

His favorite: 'What a Friend We Have in Jesus."

But aside from these widely known religious manifestations, some of the country's most forceful lay church leaders now occupy high places in the federal administration.

Chief of these is Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, son of a clergyman and a Presbyterian elder himself, who has been an ardent, and influential churchman throughout his career.

"There is no substitute," he once said, "for God's purpose in the hearts of men."

Dulles left a job in the international affairs department of the World Council of Churches to take his cabinet post. Before that, for nearly a decade, he headed an interdenominational commission for a just and durable peace — to focus Christian principles on government.

Other Leaders

Other church leaders in high executive posts include:

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, long-time missionary, former stake diocesan president of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter-day Saints, and an apostle—the highest order— of that church.

Baptist Harold Stassen, presidential assistant on disarmament, a former vice president of the National Council of Churches, a one-time Sunday School teacher, president of the International Council of Religious Education, and recently re-elected president of the International Sunday School Convention for another four years.

Church affiliations of other cabinet-rank officials:

Vice President Nixon, a Quaker; Defense Secretary Wilson, Episcopalian; Interior Secretary McKay, Presbyterian; Commerce Secretary Weeks, Unitarian; Atty. Gen. Brownell, Methodist; Treasury Secretary Humphrey, Episcopalian; Labor Secretary Mitchell, Roman Catholic; Postmaster General Summerfield, Presbyterian; and presidential assistant Sherman Adams, an Episcopalian.

Congress Survey

In Congress, a survey by the Episcopal weekly, The Living Church, shows these church membership figures for the House and Senate combined:

Methodists, 105; Roman Catholics, 82; Presbyterians, 68; Baptists, 66; Episcopalians, 53; Congregational-Christians, 31; Lutherans, 21; Disciples of Christ, 8; Latter-day Saints, 8; Jewish, 7; Reformed, 4; Quakers, 3; Unitarians, 3; Unspecified and others, 70.

Eisenhower grew up in an Abilene, Kan., home where prayer marked each day, and the Bible was the ruling guide. It was read at daily family worship, and quoted enthusiastically to deal with everyday problems.

His parents were River Brethren, a simple, rigidly disciplined faith with pacifist teachings. This led his mother into Jehovah's Witnesses in her later years.

Ashland Youth Displays Champ

FREMONT, Neb. (AP)—David McReynolds, 17, of Ashland, won the grand championship of the swine division of the Fremont 4-H Fair.

The championship honor topped off a day during which he won four purple and two blue ribbons.

Robert Langemeier of Hooper won the 4-H livestock judge contest. David Mendes of Boys Town took top honors in the swine showmanship contest.

Social Security Act To Celebrate Twentieth Birthday Next Sunday

Twenty years ago, on Aug. 14, 1935, the Social Security Act became law, Joseph W. Sewall, district manager of the Lincoln social security office, said.

Sewall

In commemorating the event, Sewell said that more than eight million persons are now receiving 400 million dollars monthly in benefits. Another 70 million people are now insured under the law, he said.

Looking ahead 20 years, Sewall predicted that by 1975, 93 million Americans will be included in the program. Out of the 20 million persons over 65 at the time, four out of five will be eligible for benefits, he said.

Average benefits for retired workers are $60 monthly, and reaching $80 for recent retirements. Wife benefits average $41 monthly, he said.

The old-age and survivors insurance program provides an average of $185 monthly for a widow and two children. Total family payments can reach $200 a month. In addition, he said, lump sum death payments range from $90 to $255.

F. A. Seiberling, Goodyear's Founder, Dead

AKRON, O. (AP)—Frank A. Seiberling, the "Little Napoleon" of the rubber industry, died in Akron General Hospital Thursday.

He founded but later lost control of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., which became the largest concern in the industry. Then, starting from scratch in his later years, he and his brother Charles founded and built Seiberling Rubber Co.

Seiberling

He was 95 years, old and had been in ill health since his retirement five years ago as chairman of Seiberling. Pneumonia and complications led to his death.

The little—5 foot 4—pioneer of the industry was credited with inventing several techniques still used in the rubber industry.

Father An Inventor

Seiberling was the son of the inventor of the wheat binder, whose patent rights later were sold to McCormick-Deering, farm implement manufacturer.

During the depression of 1898, Seiberling founded the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. in an abandoned strawboard factory in East Akron, borrowing $1,500 to get it started. Under his leadership it became the giant of the rubber industry.

But he lost control of Goodyear in 1921 at the age of 61 and the same year founded Seiberling Rubber with his late brother, Charles W. Seiberling. At the time, he had five million dollars in personal obligations.

In a few years, the new firm had grown into a multimillion-dollar concern. In 1936, when Seiberling was named chairman, his son, J. P. Seiberling, succeeded him as president.

Ordinance No. 6116

An Ordinance, creating Grading District No. 67, defining the limits thereof establishing the width of the roadway to be graded, providing for the grading of the sidewalk space and the relaying of sidewalks, providing for the payment of the cost thereof, designating the property to be benefited, and repealing all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Sec. 1. That Grading District No. 67, in the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, be and the same is hereby created; that said Grading District shall include: Prescott and Lowell Streets between the west line of 39th Street and the west curb line of 40th Street and 39th Street between the north line of Lowell Street and the south line of Prescott Street, in said City, and the following described real estate benefited, to wit: Lots 1, 2, 3, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 in Makepeace Addition. The Mighty "Mo"

Japan's surrender aboard the U. S. S. Missouri—1945

Ten years ago World War II closed with the surrender of Japan in a formal ceremony aboard the USS Missouri. A plaque on the ship's deck marks the exact surrender spot. But where's the "Mighty Mo" now? Just one of the many interesting stories in the—

Corn, Soys Down But Wheat Gains

NEW YORK (INS)—The recently battered stock market proved it still packed a punch Thursday when it staged one of the sharpest advances in months under the leadership of blue-chips and coppers.

Gains in individual issues ranged from one to more than five points.

There was no news to account for Thursday's upsurge. But growing indications that the recent 20-point plunge in the industrial average had left the market in an oversold condition, influenced some quick-turn buying.

The thinness of the market was reflected in the rapidity with which many leaders ran up on relatively light demand.

Outstanding performers in the pivotal category included DuPont up 5¾ points, Standard Oil of New Jersey up 4⅛, Union Carbide up 3 and Bethlehem Steel up 2¾.

As usual, there were a few notable laggards. Allied Chemical dropped 1¼ points, Eastman Kodak was off ½ and General Motors was down ⅝.

A miniature boom in coppers, in anticipation of a price hike in the red metal, spread to include all metal issues.

New 1955 peaks were set by Anaconda which ran up 3½ points and Kennecott which rose 2⅝.

Strength also was noted in American Smelting which advanced 1¾ and in International Nickel which gained 1½.

Rail shares were aggressively bought with Rock Island pacing the group with a spurt of 2 points.

Gains of 1 or more points were chalked up by Santa Fe, Baltimore and Ohio, Chesapeake and Ohio, Illinois Central, New Haven, Southern Pacific and Southern Railway.

The breadth of Thursday's rise was evident in the fact that advances outnumbered declines by 626 to 252. The remaining 249 issues traded in closed unchanged.

An interesting feature of the upsurge was the fact that it was accompanied by extremely low volume. Turnover totaled 1,620,000 shares, only a minor improvement over Wednesday's 1,580,000 which was a 14-month low total.

American Stock Exchange issues were mostly higher.

U. S. governments gained ground in an irregularly lower bond market.

In commodities, wheat, rye and rubber futures closed strong, contrasted with weakness in corn and rye.

Stocks Up Again After Bad Week

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains ended mixed on the Board of Trade Thursday after a sharp early selloff.

Heavy selling at the start stemmed from Wednesday's government report forecasting bumper crops.

Wheat was the stand out performer. Even at the worst it never lost more than a cent.

Wheat started to rally within the first hour and finished with fair sized gains.

Rye followed wheat while oats came ahead strongly at the finish.

Corn and soybeans never recovered form the battering they took early.

At one time corn had losses extended to 3½ cents and soybeans to 5½ cents. But their final prices were well above the lows.

Wheat closed ½-1 ⅞ higher, corn ⅞-1½ lower, oats unchanged to ⅜ higher and rye 1 to 1¾ higher.

Soybeans were ¾ to 2 cents lower and lard unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Loose lard was up ¼ for the second straight day, selling at 9½ cents a pound.

Good Business In State Keeps Employment High

Hiring In July Is Up

The State Labor Department, Division of Employment Security, credited excellent business conditions throughout the state to continued improvement in employment and increased hiring during the month.

The division placed 6,041 in non-farm jobs in July compared to 5,387 in June and 4,836 in July a year ago. New applications for work during July dropped more than 3,000 from the previous month total. The July figure was 4,529.

In the meantime, the count of all job seekers fell to 7,410 by Aug. 1, the lowest total since Sept., 1954. On July 1, the total was 9,402.

Construction added 1,213 workers during July while 941 were hired by manufacturing, over half of these were for food processing.

Topping the list was wholesale and retail firms which took in 1,560 new workers to take care of increased business.

Service establishments and private households accounted for another 1,429 and agricultural placements soared to 10,692 in July with the wheat harvest, haying, beet cultivation and corn detasseling work, reached seasonal peaks.

A weekly average of 1,975 persons received unemployment insurance payments in July. In June the number was 1,990 weekly and a year ago in July the average was 2,806.

Unemployment payments totaled $173,398 for July. Last month payments amounted to $192,008 and a year ago in July the sum reached $251,834.

ALLIANCE: Heavy demand in harvesting and hay work brought sharp drop in job seekers.

BEATRICE: Increase in job openings available has brought a decrease in job seekers. The number registered this year is 23 per cent below a year ago.

FREMONT: Labor supply continues to drop. Registered job seekers only half as many as a year ago. The largest group of unemployed are under 30 years of age.

GRAND ISLAND: Employment survey shows 9,252 persons employed in the city as of July 1. This was a drop of 200 from a year ago. Labor demand was up one-third over June.

HASTINGS: Non-agricultural labor demand changed little from June, but agricultural demand was brisk, chiefly for corn detasseling.

KEARNEY: Outside recruitment of youths from neighboring counties was necessary to meet the heavy labor demand for corn detasseling.

LINCOLN: Wage and salaried workers estimated at 46,600 in July. Manufacturing up 100 and finance and insurance up 50. Construction was down 500 with completion of some large contracts.

McCOOK: Near full employment exists in southwest Nebraska. The number of job seekers dropped to 98 as of July 30.

NEBRASKA CITY: Labor supply decreased one-third during July. Both agricultural and non-agricultural labor demands were up sharply.

NORFOLK: Labor supply on Aug. 1 was the lowest since September, 1954. Decline was caused by rapid increase in demand for seasonal harvest and construction workers.

NORTH PLATTE: In spite of a very active labor demand, job applicants registered was down only slightly from June.

OMAHA: Local office records indicate diminishing labor supply has become a reality. Number of registered applicants 12 per cent less than a month ago.

SCOTTSBLUFF: Labor demand increased during July and was 31 per cent more than a year ago. Placements also increased.

SIDNEY: Labor supply dropped sharply during July. However, it is nearly equal to that of a year ago.

U.S. Farmers Land In 'World's Finest' Cotton Area In Russia

TASKHENT, Uzbeck U. S. S. R. (AP) — America's touring farmers flew into Soviet Central Asia Thursday from the Volga city of Kuibyshev.

They stepped from a gleaming, modern Ilyushin-12 airliner at a bustling airport in the section of the Soviet Union where camels and bullocks still are the usual means of transport.

They were greeted by directors of the Uzbek Republic's labor organizations.

A special study for the visitors here will be Uzbekistan long-staple cotton, which specialists from India and other experts have called the world's finest.

From Uzbekistan, the tourists are to go to the newly opened virgin lands of Central Asia.

MOSCOW (AP) — Trud newspaper of the Soviet Union Central Trade Union Council, suggested Thursday the exchange of U.S. and Soviet farm delegations should be followed by an exchange of trade union delegations.

The Trud correspondent's front-page article said the welcome the Soviet delegation had received in Iowa and Nebraska showed the peoples of the two countries could live in friendship.

He said the welcome printed in Russian on the front page of the Des Moines Register and Tribune on the day of the delegation's arrival in Iowa were "not simply words expressing politeness."

"No, these were words of sincere, heartfelt expression in which were felt real cordiality and friendship. . . . Lively and sincere were the conversations which took place on farms, in factories and in research institutes."

In Chicago, the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor flatly rejected a proposal to send American trade union delegations on a visit to Russia.

"Such a visit would only play into the hands of the totalitarian dictatorship which . . . denies its own people all fundamental human rights," the AFL statement said.

Call Girl Racket Exposed In Fear Of Blackmailing

MONTREAL, Que. (AP) — Police said Thursday the existence of a call girl racket, complete with a filing system of addresses and telephone numbers, was made public because of pressure from business executives.

Pacifique Plante, assistant police director and the man in charge of hte morality squad, said fear of blackmail had been expressed.

Plante said there was knowledge that a three-month inquiry by police had disclosed the prostitution ring, involving 300 business girls—secretaries, stenographers, shop girls, elevator operators and others—"who have been supplementing their income in this fashion."

He said a number of Montreal business executives, many of them prominent, feared blackmail attempts against their firms or against both innocent and guilty employes if the names leaked out.

Plante said names of the girls and their clients will not be made public.

Well-Dressed Picket Line

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — A five-man picket line in front of the Newark Center market pulled a switch — it protested against high wages.

The well-dressed picket line was made up of five contractors borrowing a page from the unions' book.

The contractors protested the Newark Center Corporation's new contract with the AFL Carpenters Union. It grants a 15-cents-an-hour wage boost now and another next Aug. 1, plus other fringe benefits.

The contractors offered the carpenters a 10-cent raise. Journeyman carpenters get $3.30 an hour now.

Irrigation Rights Decision Pending

A request by the Mirage Flats Irrigation District that irrigation rights of Harold Cook of Agate be cancelled was heard Thursday by Dan Jones, Chief of the Bureau of Irrigation.

Cook in not now exercising his rights.

The decision was taken under advisement.

The Mirage Flats district requested that all inactive rights to irrigation water on the upper Niobrara River be "cleaned up" so that in later years they will not be exercised and the district lose the amount of water they are now getting.

Attorneys for Cook appeared at the hearing and opposed the request of the Mirage Flats district.

Youths Admit Firing Rifles Near Hospital

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP) — Two 15-year-old youths have told the Adams County attorney and sheriff that they were firing their .22 rifles in a wooded area near the State Mental Hospital Tuesday.

Reuben Straw, 49, was found fatally wounded there Tuesday.

The two told Sheriff Worthy Wood and County Attorney Mel Kammerlohr that they had seen Straw lying on the ground but that they thought he was asleep.

Kammerlohr said Thursday the two youths had been released without bond to their parents and that he had not determined what charges, if any, would be filed in the case.

The rifles used by the two youths were sent to Lincoln for testing by the state patrol's ballistics laboratory.

Kammerlohr said the death of Straw, a patient at the hospital, was definitely accidental. Straw was struck in the head by a .22 calibre bullet.

Russ Farmers In Windy City

CHICAGO (INS) — Members of the Russian farm delegation arrived by plane Thursday night for a visit that was expected to last until next Tuesday.

The Russians said they were "very impressed" by their recent visit to Minnesota farms and termed them "good farms."

They planned to visit points of interest in Chicago, including the Union Stockyards and the Merchandise Mart. Later they will make side trips to rural Illinois and Michigan.

The Russians will be guests at the All-Star Football Game at Soldier Field.

Three of the Russian delegation made the trip to Chicago from Detroit, while the others flew in from Minneapolis.
